TITLE X—ADDRESSING SOCIAL DETERMINANTS AND IMPROVING ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE
SEC. 3. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds as follows:

(1) The population of racial and ethnic minorities is expected to increase over the next few decades, yet racial and ethnic minorities have the poorest health status and face substantial cultural, social, and economic barriers to obtaining high-quality health care.

(2) Health disparities are a function of not only access to health care, but also the social determinants of health—including the environment, the physical structure of communities, nutrition and food options, educational attainment, employment, race, ethnicity, sex, geography, language preference, immigrant or citizenship status, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic status, or disability status—that directly and indirectly affect the health, health care, and wellness of individuals and communities.

(3) Over the next few decades, the United States will face a shortage of health care providers and allied health workers.

(4) All efforts to reduce health disparities and barriers to high-quality health services require better and more consistent data, and better and more consistent collection of and access to data.

(5) A full range of culturally and linguistically appropriate health care and public health services must be available and accessible in every community.

(6) Racial and ethnic minorities and under-served populations must be included early and equitably in health reform innovations.

(7) Efforts to improve minority health have been limited by inadequate resources in funding, staffing, stewardship, and accountability. Targeted investments that are focused on disparities elimination must be made in providing care and services that are community-based, including prevention and policies addressing social determinants of health.

(8) In 2011, the Department of Health and Human Services developed the HHS Action Plan to Reduce Racial and Ethnic Health Disparities and the National Stakeholder Strategy for Achieving Health Equity, which are 2 strategic plans that represent the first coordinated roadmap in the United States to reducing health disparities. These comprehensive plans, along with the National Prevention Strategy issued by the National Prevention Council of the Department of Health and Human Services, Healthy People 2030, and the National Quality Strategy of the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, as well as critical resources such as the 2012 National Healthcare Quality and Disparities Reports, will work to increase the number of people in the United States who are healthy at every stage of life.

(9) The Secretary of Health and Human Services has also reviewed and advanced updated clinical guidelines and developed other strategic planning documents to combat health disparities with a high impact on minority populations and to provide high-quality family planning services. Such guidelines and documents include the National HIV/AIDS Strategy, the Action Plan for the Prevention, Care, and Treatment of Viral Hepatitis, and recommendations of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the Office of Population Affairs.

(10) The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 111–148), as amended by the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010 (Public Law 111–152), represents the biggest advancement for minority health in the 40 years immediately preceding the enactment of this Act.

(11) The Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act, part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111–5), provides that the nationwide health information exchange infrastructure be developed and used to reduce health disparities, among other purposes.

TITLE II—CULTURALLY AND LINGUISTICALLY APPROPRIATE HEALTH AND HEALTH CARE

SEC. 2001. DEFINITIONS; FINDINGS.

(a) DEFINITIONS.—In this title, the definitions in section 3400 of the Public Health Service Act, as added by section 2004, shall apply.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Effective communication is essential to meaningful access to quality physical and mental health care.

(2) Research indicates that the lack of appropriate language services creates language barriers that result in increased risk of misdiagnosis, ineffective treatment plans, and poor health outcomes for individuals with limited English proficiency and individuals with communication disabilities such as cognitive, hearing, vision, or print impairments.

(3) The number of limited English speaking residents in the United States who speak English less than very well and, therefore, cannot effectively communicate with health and social service providers continues to increase significantly.

(4) The responsibility to fund language services in the provision of health care and health care-related services to individuals with limited English proficiency and individuals with communication disabilities such as cognitive, hearing, vision, or print impairments is a societal one that cannot fairly be placed solely upon the health care, public health, or social services community.

(5) Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000d et seq.) prohibits discrimination based on the grounds of race, color, or national origin by any entity receiving Federal financial assistance. In order to avoid discrimination on the grounds of national origin, all programs or activities administered by the Federal Government must take adequate steps to ensure that their policies and procedures do not deny or have the effect of denying individuals with limited English proficiency with equal access to benefits and services for which such persons qualify.

the provision of appropriate auxiliary aids and services necessary to ensure effective communication with individuals with disabilities. The type of auxiliary aid or service necessary to ensure effective communication will vary in accordance with the method of communication used by the individual, the nature, length, and complexity of the communication involved, and the context in which the communication is taking place. A public accommodation should consult with individuals with disabilities whenever possible to determine what type of auxiliary aid is needed to ensure effective communication. The public accommodation should use the individual’s preferred method of communication whenever possible, unless it would be an undue burden to the public accommodation and an alternative would provide an equally effective means of communication. The ultimate decision as to what measures to take rests with the public accommodation, provided that the method chosen results in effective communication.

ability, sex, and age, requires the provision of language services to ensure effective communication with individuals with limited English proficiency, and requires the provision of appropriate auxiliary aids and services necessary to ensure effective communication with individuals with disabilities.

(8) Linguistic diversity in the health care and health care-related services workforce is important for providing all patients the environment most conducive to positive health outcomes.

(9) All members of the health care and health care-related services community should continue to educate their staff and constituents about limited English proficient and disability communication issues and help them identify resources to improve access to quality care for individuals with limited English proficiency and individuals with communication disabilities such as cognitive, hearing, vision, or print impairments.

(10) Access to English as a second language, foreign language, and sign language interpreters, translated and alternative format documents, readers, and other auxiliary aids and services, are essential to ensure effective communication and eliminate the language barriers that impede access to health care.

(11) Culturally competent language services in health care settings should be available as a matter of course.

SEC. 2002. IMPROVING ACCESS TO SERVICES FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH LIMITED ENGLISH PROFICIENCY.

(a) PURPOSE.—Consistent with the goals provided in Executive Order 13166 (42 U.S.C. 2000d–1 note; relating to improving access to services for persons with limited English proficiency), it is the purpose of this section—

(1) to improve Federal agency performance regarding access to federally conducted and federally assisted programs and activities for individuals with limited English proficiency;

(2) to require each Federal agency to examine the services it provides and develop and implement a system by which individuals with limited English proficiency can obtain culturally competent services and meaningful access to those services consistent with, and without substantially burdening, the fundamental mission of the agency;

(3) to require each Federal agency to translate any English language written material prepared for the general public relating to a public health emergency, including vaccine distribution and education, into the top 15 non-English languages in the United States (according to the most recent data from the American Community Survey or its replacement) not later than 7 days after any such material is made available in English;

(4) to require each Federal agency to ensure that recipients of Federal financial assistance provide culturally competent services and meaningful access to applicants and beneficiaries who are individuals with limited English proficiency;

(5) to ensure that recipients of Federal financial assistance take reasonable steps, consistent with the guidelines set forth in the “Guidance to Federal Financial Assistance Recipients Regarding Title VI Prohibition Against National Origin Discrimination Affecting Limited English Proficient Persons” (67 Fed. Reg. 41455 (June 18, 2002)), to ensure culturally and linguistically appropriate access to their programs and activities by individuals with limited English proficiency; and

(6) to ensure compliance with title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. 2000d et seq.) and section 1557 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18116) (prohibiting health care providers and organizations from discriminating in the provision of services).

(b) Federally Conducted Programs and Activities.—

(1) In general.—Not later than 120 days after the date of enactment of this Act, each Federal agency providing financial assistance to, or administering, a health program or activity described in section 2003(a) shall prepare a plan or update a plan to improve culturally and linguistically appropriate access to such program or activity with respect to individuals with limited English proficiency. Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this title, each such Federal agency shall ensure that such plan is fully implemented.

(2) Plan requirement.—Each plan under paragraph (1) shall include—

(B) the policies and procedures for identifying, assessing, and meeting the culturally and linguistically appropriate language needs of its beneficiaries that are individuals with limited English proficiency served by such program or activity;

(i) providing a range of language assistance options;

(ii) giving notice to individuals with limited English proficiency of the right to competent language services;

(iii) training staff (at least annually);

and

(iv) monitoring and assessing the quality of the language services (at least annually);

(D) the steps the agency will take for such program or activity to provide reasonable accommodations necessary for individuals with limited English proficiency, including those individuals with a communication disability, to understand communications from the agency;

(E) the steps the agency will take to ensure that applications, forms, and other significant documents for such program or activity are competently translated into the primary language of a client that is an individual with limited English proficiency where such materials are needed to improve access of such client to such program or activity;

(F) the resources the agency will provide to improve cultural and linguistic appropriateness to assist recipients of Federal funds to improve access to health care-related programs and activities for individuals with limited English proficiency;

(G) the resources the agency will provide to ensure that competent language assistance is provided to patients that are individuals with limited English proficiency by interpreters or trained bilingual staff;

(H) the resources the agency will provide to ensure that family, particularly minor children, and friends are not used to provide interpretation services, except as permitted under section 1557 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (42 U.S.C. 18116); and

(I) the steps the agency will take and resources the agency will provide to ensure that individuals know their rights, including the ability to file a complaint.

(3) Submission of Plan to DOJ.—Each agency that is required to prepare a plan under paragraph (1) shall—

(A) consult with populations who are directly impacted by policies in the plan and their representatives in the development of the plan; and

(B) when the plan is finalized, send a copy of such plan to the Attorney General, to serve as the central repository of all such plans.

SEC. 2003. ENSURING STANDARDS FOR CULTURALLY AND LINGUISTICALLY APPROPRIATE SERVICES IN HEALTH CARE.

(1) of which any part is receiving Federal financial assistance, including credits, subsidies, or contracts of insurance; or

(a) SUPPORT FOR NURSING EDUCATION AND THE FUTURE NURSING WORKFORCE.—Part D of title VIII of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 296p et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SEC. 832. NURSING EDUCATION ENHANCEMENT AND MODERNIZATION GRANTS IN UNDERSERVED AREAS.

“(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary, acting through the Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration, may award grants to schools of nursing for—

“(1) increasing the number of faculty and students at such schools in order to enhance the preparedness of the United States for, and the ability of the United States to address and quickly respond to, public health emergencies declared under section 319 and pandemics; or “(2) the enhancement and modernization of nursing education programs.

“(b) PRIORITY.—In selecting grant recipients under this section, the Secretary shall give priority to schools of nursing that—

“(1) are located in a medically underserved community;

“(3) are institutions of higher education listed under section 371(a) of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

“(c) CONSIDERATION.—In awarding grants under this section, the Secretary, to the extent practicable, may ensure equitable distribution of awards among the geographic regions of the United States.

“(d) USE OF FUNDS.—A school of nursing that receives a grant under this section may use the funds awarded through such grant for activities that include—

“(1) enhancing enrollment and retention of students at such school, with a priority for students from disadvantaged backgrounds (including racial or ethnic groups underrepresented in the nursing workforce), individuals from rural and underserved areas, low-income individuals, and first generation college students (as defined in section 402A(h)(3) of the Higher Education Act of 1965);

“(2) creating, supporting, or modernizing educational programs and curriculum at such school;

“(3) retaining current faculty, and hiring new faculty, with an emphasis on faculty from racial or ethnic groups who are underrepresented in the nursing workforce;

“(4) modernizing infrastructure at such school, including audiovisual or other equipment, personal protective equipment, simulation and augmented reality resources, telehealth technologies, and virtual and physical laboratories;

“(5) partnering with a health care facility, nurse-managed health clinic, community health center, or other facility that provides health care in order to provide educational opportunities for the purpose of establishing or expanding clinical education;

“(2) the total number of students who are enrolled at or who have graduated from any school of nursing that was improved or expanded through a grant under this section, which such statistic shall—available, be deidentified and disaggregated by race, ethnicity, age, sex, geographic region, disability status, and other relevant factors; and “(B) include an indication of the number of such students who are from racial or ethnic groups underrepresented in the nursing workforce, such students who are from rural or underserved areas, such students who are low-income students, and such students who are first generation college students (as defined in secpended.”.

(b) Strengthening Nurse Education.— The heading of part D of title VIII of the Public Health Servic Act (42 U.S.C. 296p et seq.) is amended by striking “BASIC”.

SEC. 3013. FINDINGS; SENSE OF CONGRESS RELATING TO GRADUATE MEDICAL EDUCATION.

(a) Findings.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Projections by the Association of American Medical Colleges and other expert entities, such as the Health Resources and Services Administration, have indicated a nationwide shortage of up to 121,900 physicians, split evenly between primary care and specialists, by 2032.

(2) Primarily due to the growing and aging population, over the next decade, physician demand is expected to grow up to 17 percent.

(3) The United States Census Bureau estimates that the United States population will grow from 321,000,000 in 2015 to 347,000,000 in 2025. Further, the number of Medicare beneficiaries is estimated to increase from 47,800,000 in 2015 to approximately 66,000,000 in 2025.

(4) Approximately 36 percent of practicing physicians are over the age of 55 and are likely to retire within the next decade.

(5) A nationwide physician shortage will result in many individuals in the United States waiting longer and traveling farther for health care; seeking nonemergent care in emergency departments; and delaying treatment until the health care needs of such individuals become more serious, complex, and costly.

(6) Changing demographics (such as an aging population), new health care delivery models (such as medical homes), and other factors (such as disaster preparedness) are contributing to a shortage of both generalist and specialist physicians.

(7) These shortages will have the most severe impact on vulnerable and underserved populations, including racial and ethnic minorities and the approximately 20 percent of people in the United States who live in rural or inner-city locations designated as health professional shortage areas.
(8) The health care utilization equity model of the Association of American Medical Colleges estimates that if racial and ethnic minorities and individuals from rural areas utilized health care in a similar way to their Caucasian counterparts living in metropolitan areas, the physician shortage would require an additional 96,000 physicians.

(9) To address the physician shortage in rural and medically underserved areas, medical education and training need to be accessible to underrepresented minorities (including individuals who are African American, Hispanic, Native American, or Native Hawaiian), and need to increase pathway programs for such underrepresented minorities who make up less than 12 percent of individuals enrolled in graduate medical education and for international students who make up 25 percent of individuals enrolled in graduate medical education. Immigration pathways like student, exchange-visitor, and employment visas, and programs like the National Interest Waiver and Conrad 30 J–1 Visa Waiver, help improve health access across the United States.

(10) United States medical school enrollment was expected to grow by 30 percent from 2018 to 2019 to help reduce the shortage of quality physicians in the United States.

(11) An increase in United States medical school graduates must be accompanied by an increase of 4,000 graduate medical education training positions each year.

(12) Graduate medical education programs and teaching hospitals provide venues in which the next generation of physicians learns to work collaboratively with other physicians and health professionals, adopt more efficient care delivery models (such as care coordination and medical homes), incorporate health information technology and electronic health records in every aspect of their work, apply new methods of assuring quality and safety, and participate in groundbreaking clinical and public health research.

(13) The Medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395 et seq.) (having more beneficiaries than any other health care program), supports its “fair share” of the costs associated with graduate medical education.

(14) In general, the level of support of graduate medical education by the Medicare program has been capped since 1997 and has not been increased to support the expansion of graduate medical education programs needed to avert the projected physician shortage or to accommodate the increase in United States medical school graduates.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that eliminating the limit of the number of residency positions that receive some level of Medicare support under section 1886(h) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395ww(h)), also referred to as the Medical graduate medical education cap, is critical to—

(1) ensuring an appropriate supply of physicians to meet the health care needs in the United States;

(2) facilitating equitable access for all who seek health care;

(3) increasing the racial and ethnic diversity of physicians in the United States; and

(4) mitigating disparities in health and health care.

SEC. 3014. CAREER SUPPORT FOR SKILLED, INTERNATIONAL-ALLY EDUCATED HEALTH PROFESSIONALS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) According to a 2018 study, the State and local public health workforce has shrunk by more than 50,000 individuals since the beginning of the 2008 Great Recession, and almost one quarter of individuals comprising the governmental public health workforce plan to leave or retire in the coming years.

(2) Shortages are projected for other health professions, including within the fields of nursing (500,000 by 2025), dentistry (15,000 by 2025), pharmacy (38,000 by 2030), mental and behavioral health (236,880 by 2025), and primary care (46,000 by 2025).

(3) A nationwide health workforce shortage will result in serious health threats and more severe and costly health care needs, due to, in part, a delayed response to food-borne outbreaks, emerging infectious diseases, natural disasters, fewer cancer screenings, and delayed treatment.

(4) Vulnerable and underserved populations and health professional shortage areas will be most severely impacted by the health workforce shortage.

(5) According to the Migration Policy Institute, more than 2,000,000 college-educated immigrants in the United States today are unemployed or underemployed in low- or semi-skilled jobs that fail to draw on their education and expertise.
(6) Approximately 2 out of every 5 internationally educated immigrants are unemployed or underemployed.

(7) According to the Drexel University Center for Labor Markets and Policy, underemployment for internationally educated immigrant women is 28 percent higher than for their male counterparts.

(8) According to the Drexel University Center for Labor Markets and Policy, the mean annual earnings of underemployed immigrants were $32,000, or 43 percent less than United States born college graduates employed in the college labor market.

(9) According to Upwardly Global and the Welcome Back Initiative, with proper guidance and support, underemployed skilled immigrants typically increase their income by 215 percent to 900 percent.

(10) According to the Brookings Institution and the Partnership for a New American Economy, immigrants working in the health workforce are, on average, better educated than United States-born workers in the health workforce.

(b) GRANTS TO ELIGIBLE ENTITIES.—

(1) AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE GRANTS.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services acting through the Bureau of Health Workforce within the Health Resources and Services Administration, the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities, or the Office of Minority Health (in this section referred to as the "Secretary") may award grants to eligible entities under paragraph (2) to carry out activities described in subsection (e).

(2) ELIGIBILITY.—To be eligible to receive a grant under this section, an entity shall—

(A) be a clinical, public health, or health services organization, a community-based or nonprofit entity, an academic institution, a faith-based organization, a State, county, or local government, an area health education center, or another entity determined appropriate by the Secretary; and

(B) submit to the Secretary an application at such time, in such manner, and containing such information as the Secretary may require.

(e) AUTHORIZED ACTIVITIES.—A grant awarded under this section shall be used—

(1) to provide services to assist unemployed and underemployed skilled immigrants, residing in the United States, who have legal, permanent work authorization and who are internationally educated health professionals, enter into the health workforce of the United States with employment matching their health professional skills and education, and advance in employment to positions that better match their health professional education and expertise;

(2) to provide training opportunities to reduce barriers to entry and advancement in the health workforce for skilled, internationally educated immigrants;

(3) to educate employers regarding the abilities and capacities of internationally educated health professionals;

(4) to assist in the evaluation of foreign credentials;

(5) to support preceptorships for international medical graduates in hospital primary care training;
and

(6) to facilitate access to contextualized and accelerated courses on English as a second language.

SEC. 3015. STUDY AND REPORT ON STRATEGIES FOR IN-CREASING DIVERSITY.

(a) STUDY.—The Comptroller General of the United States shall conduct a study on strategies for increasing the diversity of the health professional workforce. Such study shall include an analysis of strategies for increasing the number of health professionals from rural, lower income, and underrepresented minority communities, including which strategies are most effective for achieving such goal.

(b) REPORT.—Not later than 2 years after the date of enactment of this Act, the Comptroller General shall submit to Congress a report on the study conducted under subsection (a), together with recommendations for such legislation and administrative action as the Comptroller

“(B) Any increase in allotments under subparagraph (A) shall be maintained indefinitely, unless in a fiscal year the total number of such waivers granted is 5 percent lower than in the last year in which there was an increase in the number of waivers allotted pursuant to this paragraph. In such case—

Code of Federal Regulations), without rea shortage of health care professionals; and

SEC. 3017. NATIONAL HISPANIC NURSES DAY.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) A special group of nurses in the Nation are 2 the Hispanic nurses.

(2) Hispanic nurses provide culturally and eth-
3 nically competent care and are educated to be sen-
4 sitive to regional and community customs of persons 5 needing care.

(3) Hispanic nurses are well-positioned to pro-
6 vide leadership to eliminate health care disparities
7 that exist in the Nation.

(4) Since 1975, the National Association of 8 Hispanic Nurses (NAHN) has represented Hispanic 9 nurses (RNs/LPNs) in the United States and is the only nursing organization for Hispanic nurses whose mission is to advance the health in Hispanic communities and to lead, promote, and advocate for educational, professional, and leadership opportunities for Hispanic nurses.

(5) Since September is the month that has been set aside to honor the contributions of Hispanics, it is only fitting that Hispanic nurses be recognized and honored during this time for their outstanding contributions to their community and country.

(6) The designation of an observation day will help to raise awareness of the accomplishments of Hispanic nurses and pave the way for the important work that they must continue to carry out.

(7) Each February, the National Association of Hispanic Nurses convenes nearly 100 nursing leaders from academia, research, education, and practice in the District of Columbia for a day on Capitol Hill promoting legislation that improves the health of Hispanic communities.

(8) Hispanic nurses are strong allies to Congress as they help inform, educate, and work closely with legislators to improve the education, retention, recruitment, and practice of all nurses and, more importantly, the health and safety of the patients for whom they provide care.

(9) Hispanic nurses add needed diversity to the nursing profession, and these nurses have engaged in numerous ways to support communities and the needs of an overlooked, under resourced, and underserved population being severely impacted by COVID–19.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—The Congress—

(1) supports the goals and ideals, and the designation, of National Hispanic Nurses Day, as proposed by the National Association of Hispanic Nurses;

(2) recognizes the significant contributions of Hispanic nurses to the health care system of the United States; and

(3) encourages the people of the United States to observe National Hispanic Nurses Day with appropriate recognition, ceremonies, activities, and programs to demonstrate the importance of Hispanic nurses to the everyday lives of patients and the communities they serve.

Subtitle D—Advancing Health Equity Through Payment and Delivery Reform

SEC. 4301. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) the sustainability of the health care system in the United States hinges on restructuring how health care is paid for, shifting away from paying for the volume of services provided to the value the services provide;

(2) high value care is care that provides higher quality care more efficiently, achieving greater health improvement and better health outcomes at lower cost (per patient and overall);

(3) a high value health care system must deliver timely, accessible, well-coordinated, high-quality, culturally centered, and language-appropriate care to everyone;

(4) eliminating health and health care disparities and achieving health equity must be central to and required in efforts to achieve a high value health care system;

(5) eliminating such disparities and achieving such equity will require tailored interventions and targeted investments to address inequities in health and health care to make sure that health care delivery and payment efforts are responsive to and inclusive of the needs of communities of color and other communities experiencing disparities; and

(6) new models of value-based payment and care delivery should prioritize primary care and consider the holistic needs of and other factors with respect to the patient population, including with respect to behavioral health, oral health, end-of-life care, history of adverse childhood experiences and adverse community environments, social determinants of health, social risk factors, unmet social needs, and the burden of intergenerational racial and other inequities.

SEC. 4302. CENTERS FOR MEDICARE & MEDICAID SERVICES REPORTING AND VALUE BASED PROGRAMS.

(a) ADVANCING HEALTH EQUITY IN REPORTING AND VALUE BASED PAYMENT PROGRAMS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Administrator of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (in this section referred to as the “Administrator”) shall require that a clinician or other professional participating in any pay-for-reporting or value based payment program stratify clinical quality measures by disparity variables, including race, ethnicity, sex, primary language, disability status, sexual orientation, gender identity, and socioeconomic status. A clinician or other professional may use existing demographic data collection fields in certified electronic health record technology (as defined in section 1848(o)(4) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.
1395w–4(o)(4))) to carry out such data stratification under the preceding sentence. Such stratified data will assist clinicians and other professionals in the identification of disparities obscured in aggregated data and assist with the provision of interventions that target reducing those disparities.

(2) CLINICIAN.—In assessing performance in any value-based payment program, the Administrator shall incorporate a clinician or other professional’s performance in reducing disparities across race, ethnicity, sex, primary language, disability status, sexual orientation, gender identity, and socio-economic status. Linking performance payments to the reduction of health care disparities across such variables will assist in holding clinicians and other professionals accountable for providing quality care that can lead to decreased health inequities.

(3) REQUIREMENT OF ADOPTION OF CERT.—All entities, clinicians, or other professionals participating in the Quality Payment Program of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services shall be required to adopt 2015 certified electronic health record technology (as so defined) as a condition of participating in such program.

(b) QUALITY IMPROVEMENT ACTIVITIES.—The Administrator, upon yearly review of the Quality Payment Program, shall add quality improvement activities that implement the Culturally and Linguistically Accessible Standards (CLAS) as Improvement Activities under the Quality Payment Program.

SEC. 4303. DEVELOPMENT AND TESTING OF DISPARITY REDUCING DELIVERY AND PAYMENT MODELS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation established under section 1115A of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1315a) (in this section referred to as the “CMI”) shall establish a dedicated fund to identify, test, evaluate, and scale delivery and payment models under the applicable titles (as defined in subsection (a)(4)(B) of such section) that target health disparities among racial and ethnic minorities, including models that support high-value nonmedical services that address socially determined barriers to health in all stages of the life cycle through end-of-life, including English proficiency status, low health and health care literacy, lack of access to health care planning, including end-of-life care planning, case management, transportation, enrollment assistance needs, stable and affordable housing, utility assistance, employment and career development, and nutrition and food security which will help to reduce disparities and impact the overall cost of care.

(b) Amendment to Social Security Act.—The second sentence of section 1115A(a)(1) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1315a(a)(1)) is amended by inserting “and improve health equity” after “expenditures”.

(c) Pilot Programs.—The CMI shall prioritize the testing of models under such section 1115A that include partnerships with entities, including community based organizations or other nonprofit entities, to help address socially determined barriers to health and health care.

(d) Alternatives.—Any model tested by the CMI under such 1115A shall include measures to assess and track the impact of the model on health disparities, using existing measures such as the Healthcare Disparities and Cultural Competency Measures endorsed by the entity with a contract under section 1890(a) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395aaa(a)), and stratified by race, ethnicity, English proficiency, gender identity, sexual orientation, and disability status.

SEC. 4304. DIVERSITY IN CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID CONSULTATION.

(a) In General.—In carrying out the duties under this section, the CMI shall consult representatives of relevant Federal agencies, and clinical and analytical experts with expertise in medicine and health care management, specifically such experts with expertise in—

(1) the health care needs of minority, rural, and underserved populations; and

(2) the financial needs of safety net, community based, rural, and critical access providers, including federally qualified health centers.

(b) Open Door Forums.—The CMI shall use open door forums or other mechanisms to seek external feedback from interested parties and incorporate that feedback into the development of models.

SEC. 4305. SUPPORTING SAFETY NET AND COMMUNITY-BASED PROVIDERS TO COMPETE IN VALUE-BASED PAYMENT SYSTEMS.

(a) In General.—Any pay-for-performance or alternative payment model that is developed and tested by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation established under section 1115A of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1315a), or any other agency of the Department of Health and Human Services with respect to the programs under titles XVIII, XIX, or XXI of such Act, shall be assessed for potential impact on safety net, community based, and critical access providers, including Federally qualified health centers.

(b) New Models.—The rollout of any such models shall include training and additional up front resources for community based and safety net providers to enable those providers to participate in the model.

SEC. 4405. AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

To carry out this subtitle, there is authorized to be appropriated $100,000,000 for fiscal year 2023.

Subtitle F—Equitable Health Care

For All

SEC. 4501. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) In 1966, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., said

“Of all the forms of inequality, injustice in health care is the most shocking and inhuman because it often results in physical death.”.

(2) Inequity in health care remains a persistent and devastating reality for many communities, and, in particular, communities of color.

(3) The provision of inequitable health care has complex causes, many stemming from systemic inequality in access to health care, housing, nutrition, economic opportunity, education, and other factors.

(4) Health care outcomes for Black communities in particular lag far behind those of the population as a whole.

(5) Dr. Anthony Fauci, Director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, said on April 7, 2020, the coronavirus outbreak is “shining a bright light” on “unacceptable” health disparities in the Black community.

(6) A contributing factor in health disparities is explicit and implicit bias in the delivery of health care, resulting in inferior care and poorer outcomes for some patients on the basis of factors that include race, national origin, sex (including sexual orientation or gender identity), disability, age, and religion.

(7) The National Academy of Medicine (formerly known as the “Institute of Medicine”) issued a report in 2002 titled “Unequal Treatment”, finding that racial and ethnic minorities receive lower-quality health care than Whites do, even when insurance status, income, age, and severity of condition is comparable.

(8) Just as Congress has sought to eliminate bias, both explicit and implicit, in employment, housing, and other parts of our society, the elimination of bias and the legacy of structural racism in health care is of paramount importance.

SEC. 4502. DATA COLLECTION AND REPORTING.

(a) REQUIRED REPORTING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services, in consultation with the Director for Civil Rights and Health Equity, the Director of the National Institutes of Health, the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, the Director of the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Minority Health, and the Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, shall by regulation require all health care providers and facilities that are required under other provisions of law to report data on specific health outcomes to the Department of Health and Human Services in aggregate form, to disaggregate such data by demographic characteristics, including by race, national origin, sex (including sexual orientation and gender identity), disability, and age, as well as any other factor that the Secretary of Health and Human Services determines would be useful for determining a pattern of provision of inequitable health care.

(2) PROPOSED REGULATIONS.—Not later than 90 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services shall issue proposed regulations to carry out paragraph (1).

(b) REPOSITORY.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall—

(a) Equitable Health Care as Value Measurement.—Section 1886(b)(3)(B)(viii) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395ww(b)(3)(B)(viii)) is amended by adding at the end the following new subclause:

“(XIII)(aa) Effective for payments beginning with fiscal year 2024, in expanding the number of measures under subclause (III), the Secretary shall adopt measures that relate to equitable health care furnished by hospitals in inpatient settings.

“(bb) In carrying out this subclause, the Secretary shall solicit input and recommendations from individuals and groups representing communities of color and other protected classes and ensure measures adopted pursuant to this subclause account for social determinants of health, as defined in section 4506(e)(10) of the Health Equity and Accountability Act of 2022.

“(cc) For purposes of this subclause, the term ‘equitable health care’ refers to the principle that high-quality care should be provided to all individuals and health care treatment and services should not vary on account of the real or perceived race, national origin, sex (including sexual orientation and gender identity), disability, or age of an individual, as well as any other factor that the Secretary determines would be useful for determining a pattern of provision of inequitable health care.”.

(b) INCLUSION OF EQUITABLE HEALTH CARE MEAS-URES.—Section 1886(o)(2)(B) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395ww(o)(2)(B)) is amended by adding at the end the following new clause:

“(iv) INCLUSION OF EQUITABLE HEALTH CARE MEASURES.—Beginning in fiscal year 2024, measures selected under subparagraph (A) shall include the equitable health care measures described in subsection (b)(3)(B)(viii)(XIII).”.
SEC. 4504. PROVISION OF INEQUITABLE HEALTH CARE AS A BASIS FOR PERMISSIVE EXCLUSION FROM MEDICARE AND STATE HEALTH CARE PRO-

Section 1128(b) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.
1320a–7(b)) is amended by adding at the end the following new paragraph:

“(18) Provision of inequitable health care.—

“(A) In general.—Subject to subpara-graph (B), any health care provider that the Secretary determines has engaged in a pattern of providing inequitable health care (as defined in section 4506(e)(7) of the Health Equity and Accountability Act of 2022) on the basis of race, national origin, sex (including sexual orientation and gender identity), disability, or age of an individual.

“(B) Exception.—For purposes of carrying out subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall not exclude any health care provider from participation in the Medicare program under title XVIII of the Social Security Act or the Medicaid program under title XIX of such Act if the exclusion of such health care provider would result in increased difficulty in access to health care services for underserved or low-income communities.”

SEC. 4505. OFFICE FOR CIVIL RIGHTS AND HEALTH EQUITY OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES.

(a) NAME OF OFFICE.—Beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, the Office for Civil Rights of the Department of Health and Human Services shall be known as the “Office for Civil Rights and Health Equity” of the Department of Health and Human Services. Any reference to the Office for Civil Rights of the Department of Health and Human Services in any law, regulation, map, document, record, or other paper of the United States shall be deemed to be a reference to the Office for Civil Rights and Health Equity.

AND CHILDREN'S HEALTH MODELS.

Section 1115A(b)(2) of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1315a(b)(2)), as amended by section 5206(b), is amended—

(1) in subparagraph (B), by adding at the end the following:

“(xxix) Promoting evidence-based models of care that have been associated with reductions in pregnancy-related and infant health inequities, including incorporating the use of and payment for doulas, particularly community-based doulas, and promoting support for people during pregnancy and for the one-year period after the last day of such person’s pregnancy, through evidence-based models of antepartum, birth, postpartum care, and two-generation birthing person and newborn care models, and supporting the risk-appropriate use of out-of-hospital birth models, including births at home and in freestanding birth centers. ment to doulas as individuals, health care entity staff, or members of a doula group or collective, or through a third-party administrator;

“(II) designed to reduce racial and intersecting health inequities;

“(III) designed to provide doulas

Subtitle E—Reproductive and Sexual Health

Sec. 5401. Findings; sense of Congress on urgent barriers to abortion access and vital solutions.

(a) Findings.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Affordable, comprehensive health insurance that includes coverage for a full range of pregnancy-related care, including abortion, is critical to the health of every person regardless of actual or perceived race, color, national origin, immigration status, sex (including sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, childbirth, a medical condition relating to pregnancy or childbirth, or sex stereotyping), age, or disability status.

(2) Abortion services are essential to health care and access to those services is central to people’s ability to participate equally in the economic and social life of the United States. Abortion access allows people who are pregnant to make their own decisions about their pregnancies, their families, and their lives.

(3) Reproductive justice seeks to address restrictions on reproductive health, including abortion, that perpetuate systems of oppression, lack of bodily autonomy, White supremacy, and anti-Black racism. The violent legacy of these systems of oppression has manifested in policies including enslavement, rape, and experimentation on Black people, forced sterilizations, medical experimentation on low-income people’s reproductive systems, and the forcible removal of Indigenous children. Access to equitable reproductive health care, including abortion services, has always been deficient in the United States for Black, Indigenous, and other People of Color (BIPOC) and their families. Transgender, non-binary, and gender expansive individuals, and specifically those who are Black, disabled, and at the intersections of multiple forms of oppression, also experience inequitable access to abortion services due to systemic violence. Centering abortion rights and access as a "women’s health" issue restricts access to those with reproductive needs who do not identify as cisgender women. In order to work towards reproductive justice for all communities, transgender, nonbinary, and gender expansive individuals must be centered in conversations of abortion access. Improving abortion access for this community requires a gender-neutral approach to abortion care, rights, and justice policy.

(4) The legacy of restrictions on reproductive health, rights, and justice is not a dated vestige of a dark history. Access to abortion services is obstructed across the United States in various ways, including blockades of health care facilities and associated violence, prohibitions of, and restrictions on, insurance coverage, parental involvement laws (notification and consent), restrictions that shame and stigmatize people seeking abortion services, and medically unnecessary regulations that neither confer any health benefit nor further the safety of abortion services, but which harm people by delaying, complicating access to, and reducing the availability of, abortion services. As of December 2, 2021, 19 States have enacted 106 restrictions, including 12 new abortion bans, making 2021 the year with the highest number of restrictions passed since Roe v. Wade was decided in 1973. Additionally, 21 States are poised to immediately ban or significantly restrict access to abortion services if the Supreme Court chooses to overturn or weaken Roe v. Wade. These unprecedented attacks on abortion rights and access fall especially heavily on people with low incomes, BIPOC, immigrants, young people, people with disabilities, those living in rural and other medically underserved areas, and transgender, non-binary, and gender expansive individuals.

(5) Since 1976, the Federal Government has withheld funds for abortion coverage in most circumstances through the Hyde amendment and similar coverage restrictions, affecting individuals of reproductive age in the United States who are insured through the Medicaid program, as well as individuals who receive insurance or care through other Federal health plans and programs. Of women aged 15 to 44 enrolled in Medicaid in 2017, 55 percent lived in the 35 States and the District of Columbia that do not cover abortion, except in limited circumstances. This amounts to roughly 7,300,000 women of reproductive age, including 3,100,000 women living below the Federal poverty level. Women of color are disproportionately likely to be insured by the Medicaid program, and nationwide, 32 percent of Black women and 27 percent of Hispanic women aged 15 to 44 were enrolled in Medicaid in 2017, compared with 16 percent of White women.

(6) Abortion-specific restrictions are even more compounded by the ongoing criminalization of people who are pregnant, including those who are incarcerated, living with HIV, or with substance use disorders. These communities already experience health inequities due to social, political, and environmental inequities, and restrictions on abortion services exacerbate these harms. Removing medically unjustified restrictions on abortion services would constitute one important step on the path toward realizing reproductive justice by ensuring that the full range of reproductive health care is accessible to all who need it.

(7) Abortion-specific restrictions are a tool of gender oppression, as they target health care services that are used primarily by individuals with reproductive needs. These paternalistic restrictions rely on and reinforce harmful stereotypes about gender roles, people’s decision making, and people’s need for protection instead of support, undermining their ability to control their own lives and wellbeing. These restrictions harm the basic autonomy, dignity, and equality of individuals with reproductive health needs, and their ability to participate in the social and economic life of the Nation.

(8) Many abortion-specific restrictions do not confer any health or safety benefits on the patient. Instead, these restrictions have the purpose and effect of unduly burdening people’s personal and private medical decisions to end their pregnancies by making access to abortion services more difficult, invasive, and costly, often forcing people to travel significant distances and make multiple unnecessary visits to the provider, and in some cases, foreclosing the option altogether.

(9) Congress has used its authority in the past to protect access to abortion services and health care providers’ ability to provide abortion services. In the early 1990s, protests and blockades at health care facilities where abortion services were provided, and associated violence, increased dramatically and reached crisis level, requiring congressional action. Congress passed the Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act (Public Law 103–259; 108 Stat. 694) to address that situation and protect physical access to abortion services.

(10) Congressional action is necessary to put an end to harmful restrictions, to federally protect access to abortion services for everyone regardless of where they live, and to protect the ability of health care providers to provide these services in a safe and accessible manner.

(11) The Equal Access to Abortion Coverage in Health Insurance Act of 2021 or the EACH Act of 2021 (H.R. 2234, S. 1021) introduced in the 117th Congress, would reverse the Hyde amendment and related abortion coverage restrictions. It would create an enforceable statutory right for people who receive health coverage or care through enumerated Federal programs (including Medicaid, the Children’s Health Insurance Program, Medicare, and the Indian Health Service, among others) and plans (including government-sponsored health insurance due to a current or former employment relationship) to receive abortion coverage. It would require the Federal Government to facilitate abortion access for in-individuals eligible to receive health care in Federal fac-cilities or in facilitates with which it contracts to provide health care, such as immigration detention centers. It also prohibits the Federal Government from prohibiting, restricting, or otherwise inhibiting State or local governments or private health insurance issuers from providing abortion coverage.

(12) The Women’s Health Protection Act of 2021 (H.R. 3755, S. 1975) introduced in the 117th Congress, would establish an enforceable statutory right for health care providers to provide, and abortion patients to receive, abortions free from medically unnecessary restrictions, limitations, and bans that delay, and at times, completely obstruct, access to abortion.

(b) Sense of Congress.—It is the sense of Congress that eliminating the Hyde amendment, enacting the Equal Access to Abortion Coverage in Health Insurance Act of 2021, and enacting the Women’s Health Protection Act of 2021, are critical to—

(1) promoting equitable abortion access, including coverage, for all who seek care;

(2) creating enforceable rights to receive, and receive coverage for, such care;
(3) advancing equitable access to comprehensive health coverage, which cannot be achieved without abortion coverage; and
(4) alleviating urgent racial, gender, and other inequities in health and health care and corresponding reproductive injustices.

SEC. 5402. EMERGENCY CONTRACEPTION EDUCATION AND INFORMATION PROGRAMS.

TITLE VI—MENTAL HEALTH AND SUBSTANCE USE DISORDERS

SEC. 6001. MENTAL HEALTH FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) Despite the existence of effective treatments, inequities lie in the availability, accessibility, and quality of mental health services for racial and ethnic minorities and people with disabilities.

(2) These inequities have powerful significance for minority groups and for society as a whole.

(3) Racial and ethnic minorities bear a greater burden from unmet mental health needs and thus suffer a greater loss to their overall health and productivity.

(4) Improving community conditions and one’s home environment, paired with high-quality, accessible, and culturally and linguistically tailored mental health services, can reduce the likelihood, frequency, and intensity of challenges to one’s mental health.

(5) The presence of strong social connections and trust, opportunities to experience and share cultural identity, safe gathering places, and economic opportunity are community factors that benefit mental health.
The social, physical, economic, and other conditions, otherwise known as social determinants of health, in communities can have tremendous influence on daily stressors that shape mental health outcomes.

Significant barriers include the cost of and access to quality care, societal stigma, mental health workforce shortages, the fragmented organization of services and needed social supports, and the history of racism and discrimination in the mental health system.

People with severe and persistent mental illness who are racial or ethnic minorities often have co-occurring health and mental health conditions and experience direct inequities in access to necessary supports, resources, and services which, without proper accommodations and support, further stigmatize them and limit their participation in society.

African-American, Latinx, Asian American, Pacific Islander, Native, Middle Eastern and North African (MENA), and other people of color communities are more likely to experience systemic discrimination by health care and social service providers and may be reluctant to seek mental health care and other health interventions.

(10) Mental health conditions and substance abuse disorders retain considerable stigma in many communities of color and seeking treatment is not always encouraged.

(11) Addressing mental health stigma and increasing access to culturally and linguistically appropriate treatments and supports in communities will help to increase utilization of mental health services for people who have functional difficulties because of mental health challenges.

(12) There is a link between a mental health diagnosis and the likelihood of an individual committing suicide.

(13) A comprehensive public health approach to behavioral health is one that fosters and finances protective factors in racial and ethnic communities that support mental health.

(14) Approaches to mental health and trauma must keep in mind the historical and present day and cultural trauma that impacts many communities of color, including trauma and loss caused by adverse weather events and structural violence.
(15) Culturally and linguistically appropriate treatments and supports must keep approaches of individual communities to mental health in mind, including by considering—

(A) approaches to cultural healing practices; and

(B) the diverse mental health professionals needed for such practices, such as peer support specialists.

(16) Approaches to mental health and addressing trauma must keep in mind the concept of intersectionality of individuals; that individuals may experience many inequities that shape the way they process and experience everyday life.

SEC. 6002. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

It is the sense of the Congress that it is imperative that a comprehensive public health approach to addressing trauma and mental health care be focused on care delivery that is culturally and linguistically appropriate.

TITLE VII—ADDRESSING HIGH IMPACT MINORITY DISEASES
Subtitle A—Cancer

SEC. 7001. LUNG CANCER MORTALITY REDUCTION.
(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Lung cancer is the leading cause of cancer death for both men and women, accounting for 25 percent of all cancer deaths.

(2) Since the National Cancer Act of 1971 (Public Law 92–218; 85 Stat. 778), coordinated and comprehensive research has raised the 5-year survival rates for breast cancer to 90 percent, for prostate cancer to 99 percent, and for colon cancer to 64 percent.

(3) The 5-year survival rate for lung cancer is still only 18 percent, and a similar coordinated and comprehensive research effort is required to achieve increases in lung cancer survivability rates.

(4) Sixty percent of lung cancer cases are now diagnosed in nonsmokers or former smokers.
Two-thirds of nonsmokers diagnosed with lung cancer are women.

Certain minority populations, such as African-American males, have disproportionately high rates of lung cancer incidence and mortality, despite their smoking rate being similar to other racial groups.

Members of the Baby Boomer Generation are entering their 60s, the most common age at which people develop lung cancer.

Tobacco addiction and exposure to other lung cancer carcinogens such as Agent Orange and other herbicides and battlefield emissions are serious problems among military personnel and war veterans.

Significant and rapid improvements in lung cancer mortality can be expected through greater use and access to lung cancer screening tests for at-risk individuals.

Recent research has shown that screening with low-dose computed tomography scan reduced lung cancer death mortality by 20 percent for those with a high risk of lung cancer through early detection. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services supports annual lung cancer screening for high-risk patients with low-dose computed tomography.

(11) Additional strategies are necessary to further enhance the existing tests and therapies available to diagnose and treat lung cancer in the future.

(12) The August 2001 Report of the Lung Cancer Progress Review Group of the National Cancer Institute stated that funding for lung cancer research was “far below the levels characterized for other common malignancies and far out of proportion to its massive health impact”.

(13) The Report of the Lung Cancer Progress Review Group identified as its “highest priority” the creation of integrated, multidisciplinary, multi-institutional research consortia organized around the problem of lung cancer rather than around specific research disciplines.

(14) The United States must enhance its response to the issues raised in the Report of the Lung Cancer Progress Review Group, and this can be accomplished through the establishment of a coordinated effort designed to reduce the lung cancer mortality rate by 50 percent by 2023 and targeted funding to support this coordinated effort.
(b) Sense of Congress Concerning Investment in Lung Cancer Research.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) lung cancer mortality reduction should be made a national public health priority; and

(2) a comprehensive mortality reduction program coordinated by the Secretary of Health and Human Services is justified and necessary to adequately address and reduce lung cancer mortality.

(c) Lung Cancer Mortality Reduction Program.—

(1) In General.—Subpart 1 of part C of title IV of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 285 et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

the Director of the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, and other members of the Lung Cancer Advisory Board established under section 7001 of the Health Equity and Accountability Act of 2022, shall implement a comprehensive program, to be known as the Lung Cancer Mortality Reduction Program, to achieve a reduction of at least 25 percent in the mortality rate of lung cancer by 2027.

“(B) the provision of funds to enable the Airway Biology and Disease Branch of the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute to expand its research programs to include predispositions to lung cancer, the interrelationship between lung cancer and other pulmonary and cardiac disease, and the diagnosis and treatment of such diseases;
“(C) the provision of funds to enable the National Institute of Biomedical Imaging and Bioengineering to expedite the development of computer-assisted diagnostic, surgical, treatment, and drug-testing innovations to reduce lung cancer mortality, such as through expansion of the Institute’s Quantum Grant Program and Image-Guided Interventions program; and “(D) the provision of funds to enable the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences to implement research programs relative to the lung cancer incidence.

“(2) With respect to the Food and Drug Administration—

“(A) activities under section 529B of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; and “(B) activities under section 561 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to expand access to investigational drugs and devices for the diagnosis, monitoring, or treatment of lung cancer.

“(3) With respect to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the establishment of an early disease research and management program under section 1511.
“(4) With respect to the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, the conduct of a biannual review of lung cancer screening, diagnostic, and treatment protocols, and the issuance of updated guidelines.

“(5) The promotion (including education) of lung cancer screening within minority and rural populations and the study of the effectiveness of efforts to increase such screening.

“(6) The cooperation and coordination of all minority and health disparity programs within the Department of Health and Human Services to ensure that all aspects of the Lung Cancer Mortality Reduction Program under this section adequately address the burden of lung cancer on minority and rural populations.

“(7) The cooperation and coordination of all tobacco control and cessation programs within agencies of the Department of Health and Human Services to achieve the goals of the Lung Cancer Mortality Reduction Program under this section with particular emphasis on the coordination of drug and other cessation treatments with early detection protocols.”
(2) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.—Subchapter B of chapter V of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 360aaa et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SEC. 529B. DRUGS RELATING TO LUNG CANCER.

“(a) In General.—The provisions of this subchapter shall apply to a drug described in subsection (b) to the same extent and in the same manner as such provisions apply to a drug for a rare disease or condition (as defined in section 526).

“(b) Qualified Drugs.—A drug described in this subsection is—

“(1) a chemoprevention drug for precancerous conditions of the lung;

“(2) a drug for targeted therapeutic treatments, including any vaccine, for lung cancer; or

“(3) a drug to curtail or prevent nicotine addiction.

“(c) Board.—The Board established under section 7001 of the Health Equity and Accountability Act of 2022 shall monitor the program implemented under this section.”.

(3) Access to Unapproved Therapies.—Section 561(e) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 360bbb(e)) is amended by in-serting before the period the following: “and shall include expanding access to drugs under section 529B, with substantial consideration being given to whether the totality of information available to the Secretary regarding the safety and effectiveness of an investigational drug, as compared to the risk of morbidity and death from the disease, indicates that a patient may obtain more benefit than risk if treated with the drug”.

(4) CDC.—Title XV of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300k et seq.) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“SEC. 1511. EARLY DISEASE RESEARCH AND MANAGEMENT PROGRAM.

“The Secretary shall establish and implement an early disease research and management program targeted at the high incidence and mortality rates of lung cancer among minority and low-income populations.”.

(d) DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AND DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS.—The Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, each in coordination with the Secretary of Health and Human Services, shall engage—

(1) in the implementation within the Department of Defense and the Department of Veterans Affairs, as the case may be, of an early detection and disease management research program for members of the Armed Forces and veterans whose smoking history and exposure to carcinogens during service on active duty in the Armed Forces has increased their risk for lung cancer; and

(2) in the implementation of coordinated care programs for members of the Armed Forces and veterans diagnosed with lung cancer.

(e) LUNG CANCER ADVISORY BOARD.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall convene a Lung Cancer Advisory Board (referred to in this section as the “Board”)—

SEC. 7002. EXPANSION OF PROSTATE CANCER RESEARCH, OUTREACH, SCREENING, TESTING, ACCESS, AND TREATMENT EFFECTIVENESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Prostate cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death among men.

(2) In 2020, an estimated 191,930 individuals in the United States will be diagnosed with prostate cancer and approximately 33,330 will die from the disease.
Roughly 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 people in the United States are living with a diagnosis of prostate cancer and its consequences.

Although prostate cancer generally affects older individuals, younger men are also at risk for the disease, and when prostate cancer appears in early middle age, it frequently takes on a more aggressive form.

There are significant racial and ethnic disparities that demand attention, for example, African Americans have prostate cancer mortality rates that are more than double those in the White population.

Underserved rural populations have higher rates of mortality compared to their urban counterparts, and innovative and cost-efficient methods to improve rural access to high-quality care should take advantage of advances in telehealth to diagnose and treat prostate cancer when appropriate.

Certain populations of veterans may have nearly twice the incidence of prostate cancer as the general population of the United States.

Urologists may constitute the specialists who diagnose and treat the vast majority of prostate cancer patients.
(9) Although much basic and translational research has been completed and much is currently known, there are still many unanswered questions, such as the extent to which known disparities are attributable to disease etiology, access to care, or education and awareness in the community.

(10) Causes of prostate cancer are not known. There is not good information regarding how to differentiate accurately, early on, between aggressive and indolent forms of the disease. As a result, there is significant overtreatment in prostate cancer. There are no treatments that can durably arrest growth or cure prostate cancer once it has metastasized.

(11) A significant proportion of cases may be clinically indolent and overdiagnosed, resulting in significant overtreatment. More accurate tests will allow men and their families to face less physical, psychological, financial, and emotional trauma, and billions of dollars could be saved in private and public health care systems.

(12) Prostate cancer research and health care programs across Federal agencies should be coordinated to improve accountability and actively encourage the translation of research into practice and to identify and implement best practices in order to foster an integrated and consistent focus on effective prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of the disease.

(b) Prostate Cancer Coordination and Education.—

(1) Interagency Prostate Cancer Coordination and Education Task Force.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, in cooperation with the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Health and Human Services, shall establish an Interagency Prostate Cancer Coordination and Education Task Force (in this section referred to as the “Prostate Cancer Task Force”).

(2) Duties.—The Prostate Cancer Task Force shall—

(A) develop a summary of advances in prostate cancer research supported or conducted by Federal agencies relevant to the diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of prostate cancer, including psychosocial impairments related to prostate cancer treatment, and compile a list of best practices that warrant broader adoption in health care programs;
(B) consider establishing, and advocating for, a guidance to enable physicians to allow screening of men who are age 74 or older, on a case-by-case basis, taking into account quality of life and family history of prostate cancer;

(C) share and coordinate information on research and health care program activities by the Federal Government, including activities related to—

(i) determining how to improve research and health care programs, including psychosocial impairments related to prostate cancer treatment;

(ii) identifying any gaps in the overall research inventory and in health care programs;

(iii) identifying opportunities to promote translation of research into practice; and

(iv) maximizing the effects of Federal Government efforts by identifying opportunities for collaboration and leveraging of resources in research and health care programs that serve individuals who are susceptible to or diagnosed with prostate cancer;

(D) develop a comprehensive interagency strategy and advise relevant Federal agencies in the solicitation of proposals for collaborative, multidisciplinary research and health care programs, including proposals to evaluate factors that may be related to the etiology of prostate cancer, that would—

(i) result in innovative approaches to study emerging scientific opportunities or eliminate knowledge gaps in research to improve the prostate cancer research portfolio of the Federal Government; and

(ii) outline key research questions, methodologies, and knowledge gaps;

(E) develop a coordinated message related to screening and treatment for prostate cancer to be reflected in educational and beneficiary materials for Federal health programs as such materials are updated; and

(F) not later than two years after the date of the establishment of the Prostate Cancer Task Force, submit to the expert advisory panels appointed under paragraph (4) to be reviewed and returned within 30 days, and then within 90 days submitted to Congress, recommendations—

(i) regarding any appropriate changes to research and health care programs, including recommendations to improve the research portfolio of the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Department of De-defense, the National Institutes of Health, and other Federal agencies to ensure that scientifically based strategic planning is implemented in support of research and health care program priorities;

(ii) designed to ensure that the research and health care programs and activities of the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Department of Defense, the Department of Health and Human Services, and other Federal agencies are free of unnecessary duplication;

(iii) regarding public participation in decisions relating to prostate cancer research and health care programs to increase the involvement of patient adva-cates, community organizations, and med-(3) Members of the Prostate Cancer Task Force. — The Prostate Cancer Task Force shall be comprised of representatives from such Federal agencies as the head of each such applicable agency determines necessary, so as to coordinate a uniform message relating to prostate cancer screening and treatment where appropriate, including representatives of each of the following:

(A) individuals and organizations from the medical, prostate cancer patient and advocate, research, and delivery communities with expertise in prostate cancer diagnosis, treatment, and research, including practicing urologists, primary care providers, and others; and

(B) individuals with expertise in education and outreach to underserved populations affected by prostate cancer.

under subparagraph (A) shall—

(i) develop advances in diagnostic and prognostic methods and tests, including

(1) Establishment of Pilot Projects.—

(A) In General.—The Secretary of Veterans Affairs, in cooperation with the Secretary of Defense and the Secretary of Health and Human Services (referred to in this subsection collectively as the “Secretaries”) shall establish four-year telehealth pilot projects for the purpose of analyzing the clinical outcomes and cost-effectiveness associated with telehealth services in a variety of geographic areas that contain high proportions of medically underserved populations, including African Americans, Latinos or Hispanics, American Indians or Alaska Natives, and those in rural areas.

(B) Efficient and effective care.—Pilot projects established under subparagraph (A) shall promote efficient use of specialist care through better coordination of primary care and physician extender teams in underserved areas and more effectively employ tumor boards to better counsel patients.

(2) Eligible entities.—

(A) in general.—The Secretaries shall select eligible entities to participate in the pilot projects established under this subsection.

(B) Priority.—In selecting eligible entities to participate in the pilot projects under this subsection, the Secretaries shall give priority to entities located in medically underserved areas, particularly those that include African Americans, Latinos and Hispanics, and facilities of the Indian Health Service, including facilities operated by the Indian Health Service, tribally operated facilities, and facilities administered by an Urban Indian organization (as defined in section 4 of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (25 U.S.C. 1603)) pursuant to title V of that Act (25 U.S.C. 1651 et seq.), and those in rural areas.

(3) EVALUATION.—The Secretaries shall, through the pilot projects established under this subsection, evaluate—

(A) the effective and economic delivery of care in diagnosing and treating prostate cancer with the use of telehealth services in medically underserved and Tribal areas including collaborative uses of health professionals and integration of the range of telehealth and other technologies;

SEC. 7003. PROSTATE RESEARCH, IMAGING, AND MEN'S EDUCATION.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Prostate cancer has reached epidemic proportions, particularly among African-American men, and strikes and kills men in numbers comparable to the number of women who lose their lives from breast cancer.

(2) Life-saving breakthroughs in screening, diagnosis, and treatment of breast cancer resulted from the development of advanced imaging technologies led by the Federal Government.

(3) Men should have accurate and affordable prostate cancer screening exams and minimally invasive treatment tools, similar to what women have for breast cancer.

(4) While it is important for men to take advantage of current prostate cancer screening techniques, a recent National Cancer Institute study demonstrated that the most common available methods of detecting prostate cancer (PSA blood test and physical exams) are not foolproof, causing numerous false alarms and false reassurances.

(5) The absence of advanced imaging technologies for prostate cancer causes the lack of accurate information critical for clinical decisions, resulting in missed cancers and lost lives, as well as unnecessary and costly medical procedures, with related complications.

(6) With prostate imaging tools, men and their families would face less physical, psychological, financial, and emotional trauma and billions of dollars could be saved in private and public health care systems.

(b) RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT OF PROSTATE CANCER IMAGING TECHNOLOGIES.—

(1) EXPANSION OF RESEARCH.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services (referred to in this section as the “Secretary”), acting through the Director of the National Institutes of Health and the Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration, and in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, shall carry out a program to expand and intensify research to develop innovative advanced imaging technologies for prostate cancer detection, diagnosis, and treatment comparable to state-of-the-art mammography technologies.

(2) EARLY STAGE RESEARCH.—In implementing the program under paragraph (1), the Secretary, acting through the Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration, shall carry out a grant program to encourage the early stages of research in prostate imaging to develop and implement new ideas, proof of concepts, and pilot studies for high-risk technologic innovation in prostate cancer imaging that would have a high potential impact for improving patient care, including individualized care, quality of life, and cost-effectiveness.

(3) LARGE SCALE LATER STAGE RESEARCH.—In implementing the program under paragraph (1), the Secretary, acting through the Director of the National Institutes of Health, shall utilize the National Institute of Biomedical Imaging and Bioengineering and the National Cancer Institute for advanced stages of research in prostate imaging, including technology development and clinical trials for projects determined by the Secretary to have demonstrated promising preliminary results and proof of concept.

(4) INTERDISCIPLINARY PRIVATE-PUBLIC PARTNERSHIPS.—In developing the program under paragraph (1), the Secretary, acting through the Administrator of the Health Resources and Services Administration, shall establish interdisciplinary private-public partnerships to develop and implement research strategies for expedited innovation in imaging and image-guided treatment and to conduct such research.

program under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall recognize and address—

(A) the racial disparities in the incidences of prostate cancer and mortality rates with respect to such disease; and

(B) any barriers in access to care and participation in clinical trials that are specific to racial minorities.

(6) Authorization of Appropriations.—

(A) In General.—Subject to subpara-graph (B), there is authorized to be appropiated to carry out this subsection, $100,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2023 through 2027.

(B) Specific Allocations.—Of the amount authorized to be appropriated under subparagraph (A) for each of the fiscal years described in such subparagraph—
(i) no less than 10 percent may be used to carry out the grant program under paragraph (2); and

(ii) no more than 1 percent may be used to carry out paragraph (4).

(B) the development and distribution of written educational materials, and the development and placing of public service announcements, that are intended to encourage men to seek prostate cancer screening and to create awareness of the need for improved imaging technologies for prostate cancer screening and diagnosis, including in vitro blood testing and imaging technologies.

(3) RACIAL DISPARITIES.—In developing the national campaign under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall recognize and address—

(A) the racial disparities in the incidences of prostate cancer and mortality rates with respect to such disease; and

(B) any barriers in access to care and participation in clinical trials that are specific to racial minorities.

(4) GRANTS.—The Secretary shall establish a program to award grants to nonprofit private entities to enable such entities to test alternative outreach and education strategies to increase the awareness and knowledge of individuals in the United States with respect to the need for prostate cancer screening and improved imaging technologies.

(5) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There is authorized to be appropriated to carry out this subsection $10,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2023 through 2027.

(e) Reporting and Compliance.—

(1) Report and Strategy.—Not later than 12 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that details the strategy of the Secretary for implementing the requirements of this section and the status of such efforts.

(2) Full Compliance.—Not later than 36 months after the date of the enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Secretary shall submit to Congress a report that—

(A) describes the research and development and public awareness and education campaigns funded under this section;
(B) provides evidence that projects involving high-risk, high impact technological innovation, proof of concept, and pilot studies are prioritized;

(C) provides evidence that the Secretary recognizes and addresses any barriers in access to care and participation in clinical trials that are specific to racial minorities in the implementation of this section;

(D) contains assurances that all the other provisions of this section are fully implemented; and

(E) certifies compliance with the provisions of this section, or in the case of a Federal agency that has not complied with any of such provisions, an explanation as to such failure to comply.

public data on the performance of such providers during each reporting period through use of the measures developed pursuant to subsection (a). Such data shall be submitted in a form and manner and at a time specified by the Secretary.

(2) Specification of providers to report on measures.—The Secretary shall specify the classes of Medicare providers of services and sup-

Subtitle B—Viral Hepatitis and Liver Cancer Control and Prevention

SEC. 7051. VIRAL HEPATITIS AND LIVER CANCER CONTROL AND PREVENTION.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the “Viral Hepatitis and Liver Cancer Control and Prevention Act of 2022”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) In the United States, nearly 5,000,000 persons are living with the hepatitis B virus (referred to in this section as “HBV”) or the hepatitis C virus (referred to in this section as “HCV”).

(2) The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (referred to in this section as the “CDC”), has recognized HCV as the Nation’s most common chronic bloodborne virus infection and HBV as the deadliest vaccine-preventable disease.

(3) HBV is transmitted through contact with infectious blood, semen, or other bodily fluids and is 100 times more infectious than HIV. HCV is transmitted by contact with infectious blood, particularly through percutaneous exposures (such as puncture through the skin).

(4) In the United States, chronic HBV and HCV are the most common causes of liver cancer, the second deadliest and fastest growing cancer in this country. These viruses are the most common cause of chronic liver disease, liver cirrhosis, and the most common indications for liver transplantation. In 2019, nearly 16,000 deaths per year in the United States were attributed to chronic HBV and HCV. Chronic HCV is also a leading cause of death in Americans living with HIV/AIDS, many of those living with HIV/AIDS are coinfected with chronic HBV, chronic HCV, or both.

(5) The CDC estimates that in 2019, 57,500 people in the United States were newly infected with HCV and 20,700 people in the United States were newly infected with HBV. These estimates could be much higher due to many reasons, including lack of screening education and awareness, and perceived marginalization of the populations at risk.

(6) The CDC reported a 374 percent increase in hepatitis C cases from 2010 to 2017, stemming from the opioid, heroin, and overdose epidemics affecting communities nationwide. From 2014 to 2015, the number of reported cases of acute hepatitis B infection in the United States rose for the first time since 2006, increasing by 20.7 percent, which is also largely attributable to the opioid epidemic.

(7) HBV and HCV disproportionately affect certain populations in the United States. Although representing only about 6 percent of the population, Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders account for half of all chronic HBV cases in the United States. Baby boomers (those born between 1945 and 1965) account for approximately 75 percent of domestic chronic HCV cases. In addition, African Americans, Latinos, and American Indian and Native Alaskans are among the groups which have disproportionately high rates of HBV or HCV infections in the United States.

(8) Liver cancer is a leading cause of cancer death among the Asian American and Pacific Islander community. Asian and Pacific Islander men and women are more than twice as likely to develop liver cancer compared to the non-Hispanic White population. The higher incidence rate of liver cancer is partially explained by higher incidence rates of hepatitis B and diabetes, which are comorbidities shown to increase an individual's risk of developing liver cancer.

(9) Chronic HBV and chronic HCV usually do not cause symptoms early in the course of the disease, but after many years of a clinically “silent” phase, CDC estimates show more than 33 percent of infected individuals will develop cirrhosis, end-stage liver disease, or liver cancer. Since most individuals with chronic HBV, HCV, or both are unaware of their infection, they do not know to take precautions to prevent the spread of their infection and can unknowingly exacerbate their own disease progression. For those chronically infected with HBV or HCV, regular monitoring can lead to the early detection of liver cancer at a stage where a treatment is still possible.

(10) For both chronic HBV and chronic HCV, behavioral changes and appropriate medical care can slow disease progression if diagnosis is made early.
Early diagnosis, which is determined through simple blood tests, can reduce the risk of transmission and disease progression through education and vaccination of household members and other susceptible persons at risk.

(11) Treatment for chronic HCV can eradicate the disease in approximately 90 percent of those currently treated. While there is no cure for chronic HBV, available treatments can effectively suppress viral replication in the overwhelming majority of those treated, thereby reducing the risk of transmission and progression to liver scarring or liver cancer.

(12) The annual health care costs attributable to HBV and HCV in the United States are significant. For HBV, it is estimated to be approximately $2,500,000,000 ($2,000 per infected person). In 2000, the lifetime cost of HBV, before the availability of most current therapies, was approximately $80,000 per chronically infected person, totaling more than $100,000,000,000. For HCV, medical costs for patients are expected to increase from $30,000,000,000 in 2009 to over $85,000,000,000 in 2024. Avoiding these costs by screening and diagnosing individuals earlier, and connecting them to appropriate treatment and care, will save lives and critical health care dollars. Currently, without a comprehensive screening, testing, and diagnosis program, most patients are diagnosed too late when they need a liver transplant costing at least $314,000 for uncomplicated cases or when they have liver cancer or end-stage liver disease which costs $30,980 to $110,576 per hospital admission. As health care costs continue to grow, it is critical that the Federal Government invests in effective mecha-

(13) In 2021, the Department of Health and Human Services released its “Viral Hepatitis National Strategic Plan: A Roadmap for Elimination for the United States, 2021–2025” (referred to in this section as the “HHS Strategic Plan”). In March 2017, the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine released a report entitled, “A National Strategy for the Elimination of Hepatitis B and C: Phase Two Report” (referred to in this section as the “NAS report”), recommending specific actions to eliminate viral hepatitis as public health problems in the United States by 2030.

(14) According to the NAS report, chronic HBV and HCV infections cause substantial morbidity and mortality despite being preventable and treatable. Deficiencies in the implementation of established guidelines for the prevention, diagnosis, and medical management of chronic HBV and HCV infections perpetuate personal and economic burdens. Existing grants are not sufficient for the scale of the health burden presented by HBV and HCV.

(15) Screening and testing for HBV and HCV is aligned with the goals of Healthy People 2030 to increase immunization rates, reduce rates of infectious diseases, and improve health for people with chronic infections. Awareness of disease and access to prevention and treatment remain essential components for reducing infectious disease transmission.

(16) Federal support is necessary to increase knowledge and awareness of HBV and HCV and to assist State and local prevention and control efforts in reducing the morbidity and mortality of these epidemics.

(17) The Secretary of Health and Human Services has the discretion to carry out this section (including the amendments made by this section) directly and through whichever of the agencies of the Public Health Service the Secretary determines to be appropriate, which may (in the Secretary’s discretion) include the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Health Resources and Services Administration, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, the National Institutes of Health (including the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities), and other agencies of such Service.

(c) Biennial Assessment of HHS Hepatitis B and Hepatitis C Prevention, Education, Research, and Medical Management Plan.—Title III of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 241 et seq.) is further amended—

(1) by striking section 317N (42 U.S.C. 247b–15); and
(2) by adding after part V the following:

Subtitle C—Acquired Bone Marrow Failure Diseases

SEC. 7101. ACQUIRED BONE MARROW FAILURE DISEASES.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This section may be cited as the “Bone Marrow Failure Disease Research and Treatment Act”.

(b) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds the following:

(1) Between 20,000 and 30,000 people in the United States are diagnosed each year with myelodysplastic syndromes, aplastic anemia, paroxysmal nocturnal hemoglobinuria, and other acquired bone marrow failure diseases.

(2) Acquired bone marrow failure diseases have a debilitating and often fatal impact on those diagnosed with these diseases.

(3) While some treatments for acquired bone marrow failure diseases can prolong and improve the quality of patients’ lives, there is no single cure for these diseases.

(4) The prevalence of acquired bone marrow failure diseases in the United States will continue to grow as the general public ages.

(5) Evidence exists suggesting that acquired bone marrow failure diseases occur more often in minority populations, particularly in Asian-American and Latino or Hispanic populations.

(6) The National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute and the National Cancer Institute have conducted important research into the causes of and treatments for acquired bone marrow failure diseases.

(7) The National Marrow Donor Program Registry has made significant contributions to the fight against bone marrow failure diseases by connecting millions of potential marrow donors with individuals and families suffering from these conditions.

(8) Despite these advances, a more comprehensive Federal strategic effort among numerous Federal agencies is needed to discover a cure for acquired bone marrow failure disorders.

(9) Greater Federal surveillance of acquired bone marrow failure diseases is needed to gain a better understanding of the causes of acquired bone marrow failure diseases.

(10) The Federal Government should increase its research support for and engage with public and private organizations in developing a comprehensive approach to combat and cure acquired bone marrow failure diseases.

Subtitle E—HIV/AIDS

SEC. 7201. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

It is the policy of the United States to achieve an AIDS-free generation, and to—

(1) expand access to lifesaving antiretroviral therapy for people living with HIV and immediately link people to continuous and coordinated high-quality care when they learn they are living with HIV;

(2) expand targeted efforts to prevent HIV infepection using a combination of effective, evidence-based approaches, including routine HIV screening, and universal access to HIV prevention tools, including preexposure prophylaxis, in communities disproportionately impacted by HIV, particularly communities of color;

(3) ensure laws, policies, and regulations do not impede access to prevention, treatment, and care for people living with HIV or disproportionately impacted by HIV;

(4) accelerate research for more efficacious HIV prevention and treatments tools, a cure, and a vaccine; and

(5) respect the human rights and dignity of persons living with HIV.

SEC. 7202. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds the following:

(1) Over 1,100,000 people are estimated to be living with HIV in the United States according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 14 percent of whom are unaware they are living with HIV.

(2) The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that, in 2019, there were approximately 34,800 people newly diagnosed with HIV. New HIV infections declined 8 percent from 37,800 in 2015, after a period of general stability. From 2015 to 2019, new infections among young gay and bisexual men (ages 13 to 24) dropped 33 percent overall, with declines in young men of all races, but African Americans, Hispanics, and Latinos continue to be severely and disproportionately affected.

(3) HIV disproportionately affects certain populations in the United States. Though Blacks/African Americans represent approximately 13 percent of the population, they account for almost half (44 percent) of all people living with HIV in the United States. Black/African-American men who have sex with men account for 26 percent of all new HIV infections and have remained stable from 2010 to 2019.

(4) Disparities continue to exist among Latinos and Hispanics; in 2019, Latinos and Hispanics made up 18 percent of the United States population and 30 percent of new infections.

(5) Though the rate of new infections among American Indians and Alaska Natives (referred to in this section as “AI/AN”) is proportional to their population size, from 2015 to 2019, the annual number of HIV diagnoses increased among American Indians and Alaska Natives.
(6) Asian Americans account for about 2 percent of new HIV infections, but in 2013, 22 percent were undiagnosed, the highest rate of undiagnosed HIV among any race or ethnicity. Between 2010 and 2016, the number of Asian Americans receiving an HIV diagnosis increased by 42 percent.

(7) The latest data from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention indicates that new infections among women remained stable for women in 2019.

(8) The history of HIV shows that culturally relevant and gender-responsive supportive services, including psychosocial support, treatment literacy, case management, and transportation are necessary strategies to reach and engage women and girls in medical care.

(9) From 2015 through 2019 in the United States and 6 dependent areas, the number of diagnoses of HIV infection for transgender adults and adolescents increased. In 2019, among transgender adults and adolescents, the largest percentage (93 percent) of diagnoses of HIV infections was for transgender male-to-female (MTF) people. By age, in 2019, the largest percentage (24 percent) of diagnoses of HIV infection among transgender persons was for transgender MTF adults and adolescents aged 20 to 24 years, followed by transgender MTF adults and adolescents aged 25 to 29 years (23 per-cent).

(10) Stigma and discrimination contribute to such disparities.

(11) The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has determined that increasing the proportion of people who know their HIV status is an essential component of comprehensive HIV treatment and prevention efforts and that early diagnosis is critical in order for people with HIV to receive life-extending therapy. Additionally, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends routine HIV screening in health care settings for all patients aged 13 to 64, regardless of risk.

(12) In 1998, Congress created the National Minority AIDS Initiative to provide technical assistance, build capacity, and strengthen outreach efforts among local institutions and community-based organizations that serve racial and ethnic minorities living with or vulnerable to HIV.

(13) To combat the HIV epidemic in the United States, the National HIV/AIDS Strategy (referred to in this section as “NHAS”) provides a framework of increasing access to care, reducing new infections, and eliminating HIV-related health disparities. The vision of NHAS is “The United States will be a place where new HIV infections are prevented, every person knows their status, and every person with HIV has high-quality care and treatment, lives free from stigma and discrimination, and can achieve their full potential for health and well-being across the lifespan. This vision includes all people, regardless of age, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, religion, disability, geographic location, or socioeconomic circumstance.”.

(14) In January 2019, the Department of Health and Human Services began implementing the initiative “Ending the HIV Epidemic: A Plan for America”. The initiative seeks to reduce the number of new HIV infections in the United States by 75 percent by 2025, and then by at least 90 percent by 2030, for an estimated 250,000 total HIV infection averted.

(15) At present, many States and United States territories have criminal statutes based on “exposure” to HIV. Most of these laws were adopted before the availability of effective antiretroviral treatment for HIV/AIDS.
(16) Research shows that stable housing leads to better health outcomes for those living with HIV. Inadequate or unstable housing is not only a barrier to effective treatment, but also increases the likelihood of engaging in risky behaviors leading to HIV infection. Insecure housing puts people with HIV/AIDS at risk of premature death from exposure to other diseases, poor nutrition, and lack of medical care.

(17) Due to advances in treatment, many people living with HIV today are living healthy lives and have the ability and desire to fully participate in all aspects of community life, including employment. Research associates being employed with tremendous economic, social, and health benefits for many people living with HIV.

(18) Despite the tremendous progress made in the treatment and prevention of HIV/AIDS, discriminatory policies stemming from continued stigmatization of HIV/AIDS and the LGBTQ+ community continue to plague the scientific community. This includes blood donation guidance updated by Food and Drug Administration in 2020 that recommends a 3-month deferral policy for gay and bisexual men before they are eligible to donate blood.
Health agencies in the United States must implement blood donation policies that are grounded in science and that do not unfairly single out any group of individuals.

(19) The common benefits associated with employment include income, autonomy, productivity, status within society, daily structure, making a contribution to one’s community, and increased skills and self-esteem. Research also indicates that many people with disabilities, including people living with HIV, report perceiving themselves as being less disabled or not disabled at all, when working. Furthermore, some studies link working with better physical and mental health outcomes for people living with HIV when compared to those who are not working. Preliminary data also suggest that transitioning to employment is associated with reduced HIV-related health risk behavior for many people.

(20) In July 2012, the Food and Drug Administration approved the first drug to be used as pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP). PrEP reduces the risk of HIV infection in HIV-negative individuals. Studies have shown that PrEP reduces HIV transmission from sex by about 99 percent when taken consistently. Despite increases in PrEP uptake, PrEP use remains low among gay and bisexual men of color. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found that uptake was lower among African-American (26 percent) and Latino (30 percent) men compared with White men (42 percent). Similarly, PrEP awareness was lower among African-American (86 percent) and Latino (87 percent) men compared with White men (95 percent). While clinical research on transgender populations and PrEP is currently limited, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends PrEP use in transgender populations. In September 2019, the Food and Drug Administration approved the second drug to be used as PrEP.

(21) Syringe service programs have been associated with lowered HIV infections, lower hepatitis C infections, and increased linkage to substance use treatment.

(22) There is now conclusive scientific evidence that a person living with HIV who is on antiretroviral therapy and is durably virally suppressed (defined as having a consistent viral load of less than 200 copies/ml) does not sexually transmit HIV. The conclusive evidence about the highly effective preventative benefits of antiretroviral therapy provides an unprecedented opportunity to improve the lives of people living with HIV, improve treatment uptake and adherence, and advocate for expanded access to treatment and care.

SEC. 7212. REDUCING NEW HIV INFECTIONS AMONG INJECTING DRUG USERS.

(a) Sense of Congress.—It is the sense of Congress that providing sterile syringes and sterilized equipment to injecting drug users substantially reduces risk of HIV infection, increases the probability that they will initiate drug treatment, and does not increase drug use.

(b) In General.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services may provide grants and technical assistance for the purpose of reducing the rate of HIV infections among injecting drug users through a comprehensive package of services for such users, including the provision of sterile syringes, education and outreach, access to infectious disease testing, overdose prevention, and treatment for drug dependence.

(c) Authorization of Appropriations.—To carry out this section, there are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary for fiscal years 2023 through 2026.

SEC. 7213. REPORT ON IMPACT OF HIV/AIDS IN VULNERABLE POPULATIONS.

(a) In General.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall submit to Congress and the President an annual report on the impact of HIV/AIDS for racial and ethnic minority communities, women, and youth aged 24 and younger.

(b) Contents.—The report under subsection (a) shall include information on the—

(1) progress that has been made in reducing the impact of HIV/AIDS in such communities;

(2) opportunities that exist to make additional progress in reducing the impact of HIV/AIDS in such communities;

(3) challenges that may impede such additional progress; and Federal funding necessary to achieve substantial reductions in HIV/AIDS in racial and ethnic minority communities.

SEC. 7214. NATIONAL HIV/AIDS OBSERVANCE DAYS.

(a) NATIONAL OBSERVANCE DAYS.—It is the sense of Congress that national observance days highlighting the impact of HIV on communities of color include the following:

(2) National Latino AIDS Awareness Day.

(4) National Native American HIV/AIDS Awareness Day.

(b) CALL TO ACTION.—It is the sense of Congress that the President should call on members of communities of color—

(1) to become involved at the local community level in HIV testing, policy, and advocacy;

(2) to become aware, engaged, and empowered on the HIV epidemic within their communities; and

(3) to urge members of their communities to reduce risk factors, practice safe sex and other preventive measures, be tested for HIV, and seek care when appropriate.

SEC. 7215. REVIEW OF ALL FEDERAL AND STATE LAWS, POLICIES, AND REGULATIONS REGARDING THE CRIMINAL PROSECUTION OF INDIVIDUALS FOR HIV-RELATED OFFENSES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) At present, 32 States and 2 United States territories have criminal statutes based on perceived exposure to HIV, rather than behaviors motivated by an intent to harm, presenting a significant risk of transmission and resulting in actual transmission of HIV to another. 11 States have HIV-specific laws that make spitting or biting a felony, even though it is not possible to transmit HIV via saliva. 24 States require persons who are aware that they have HIV to disclose their status to sexual partners, regardless of whether they are noninfectious. 14 of these 24 States also require disclosure to needle-sharing partners. 25 States criminalize 1 or more behaviors that pose a low or negligible risk for HIV transmission.

(2) HIV-specific criminal laws are classified as felonies in 28 States. In 3 States, a person’s exposure to another to HIV does not subject the person to criminal prosecution for that act alone but may result in a sentence enhancement. 18 States impose sentences of up to 10 years per violation, 7 States impose sentences between 11 and 20 years, and 5 States impose sentences of greater than 20 years.

(3) When members of the Armed Forces acquire HIV, they are issued orders that require them to disclose and use a condom under all circumstances, including when the known risk of transmission is 0. Failure to disclose can result in prosection under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ).

(4) The number of prosecutions, arrests, and instances where HIV-based charges are used to induce plea agreements is unknown. Because State-level prosecution and arrest data are not readily available in any national legal database, the societal impact of these laws may be underestimated, and most cases that go to trial are not reduced to written, published opinions.

(5) State and Federal criminal law does not currently reflect the 4 decades of medical advances and discoveries made with regard to transmission and treatment of HIV/AIDS.
(6) According to the CDC, correct and consistent male or female condom use, or adherence to a preexposure prophylaxis (PrEP) regimen that results in viral suppression, are very effective in preventing HIV transmission. However, most State HIV-specific laws and prosecutions do not treat the use of a condom during sexual intercourse or adherence to PrEP as a mitigating factor or evidence that the defendant did not intend to transmit HIV.

(7) Criminal laws and prosecutions do not take into account the benefits of effective antiretroviral medications, which suppress the virus to extremely low levels and further reduce the already low risk of transmitting HIV to near 0.

(8) In addition to HIV-specific criminal laws, general criminal laws are often misused to prosecute people based on their HIV status. Although HIV, and even AIDS, currently is viewed as a treatable, chronic, medical condition, people living with HIV have been charged under aggravated assault, attempted murder, and even bioterrorism statutes because prosecutors, courts, and legislators continue to view and characterize the blood, semen, and saliva of people living with HIV as a "deadly weapon".
Multiple peer-reviewed studies demonstrate that HIV-specific laws do not reduce risk-taking behavior or increase disclosure by people living with or at risk of HIV, and there is increasing evidence that these laws reduce the willingness to get tested. Furthermore, placing legal responsibility for preventing the transmission of HIV and other pathogens that can be sexually transmitted exclusively on people diagnosed with a sexually transmitted infection undermines the public health message that all people are responsible for practicing behaviors that protect themselves from HIV and other sexually transmitted infections. Unfortunately, some State laws that create an expectation of disclosure work against public health communication and discourage risk-reduction measures that could prevent transmission as a result of those who are acutely infected and unaware of their status.

The identity of an individual subject to an HIV-based prosecution is broadcast through media reports, potentially destroying employment opportunities and relationships and violating the person’s right to privacy.

Individuals who are convicted after an HIV-based prosecution often must register as sex offenders, even in cases involving consensual sexual activity. Their employability is destroyed, and their family relationships are fractured.

(12) The United Nations, including the Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS (UNAIDS), urges governments to “limit criminalization to cases of intentional transmission”. This requirement would limit prosecutions to situations “where a person knows his or her HIV-positive status, acts with the intention to transmit HIV, and does in fact transmit it”. UNAIDS also recommends that criminal law should not be applied to cases where there is no significant risk of transmission.

(13) In 2010, the Federal Government released the first ever National HIV/AIDS Strategy (NHAS), which addressed HIV-specific criminal laws, stating: “While we understand the intent behind these laws, they may not have the desired effect and they may make people less willing to disclose their status by making people feel at even greater risk of discrimination. In some cases, it may be appropriate for legislators to reconsider whether existing laws continue to further the public interest and public health. In many instances, the continued existence and enforcement of these types of laws run counter to scientific evidence about routes of HIV transmission and may undermine the public health goals of promoting HIV screening and treatment.”. The NHAS also states that State legislatures should consider reviewing HIV-specific criminal statutes to ensure that they are consistent with current knowledge of HIV transmission and support public health approaches to preventing and treating HIV.

(14) The Global Commission on HIV and the Law was launched in June 2010 to examine laws and practices that criminalize people living with and vulnerable to HIV and to develop evidence-based recommendations for effective HIV responses. The Commission calls for “governments, civil society and international bodies to repeal punitive laws and enact laws that facilitate and enable effective responses to HIV prevention, care and treatment services for all who need them”. The Commission recommends against the enactment of “laws that explicitly criminalize HIV transmission, exposure or non-disclosure of HIV status, which are counter-productive”.

(15) In February 2019, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) launched “Ending the HIV Epidemic: A Plan for America”, a new initiative with an ambitious goal to end the domestic HIV epidemic in 10 years by reducing new cases of HIV by 75 percent by 2025 and by 90 percent by 2030. In this plan, HHS notes that stigma “can be a debilitating barrier preventing people living with, or at risk for, HIV from receiving the health care, services, and respect they need and deserve”. Many of the States and jurisdictions identified as a priority for the first 5 years of the plan have stigma-based criminal statutes for perceived exposure to HIV. These statutes run counter to the goals of this new initiative and stand in the way of ending the domestic HIV epidemic.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING LAWS OR REG-ULATIONS DIRECTED AT PEOPLE LIVING WITH HIV.—
It is the sense of Congress that Federal and State laws, policies, and regulations regarding people living with HIV—

(1) should not place unique or additional burdens on such individuals solely as a result of their HIV status; and

(2) should instead demonstrate a public health-oriented, evidence-based, medically accurate, and contemporary understanding of—
(A) the multiple factors that lead to HIV transmission;

(B) the relative risk of demonstrated HIV transmission routes;

(C) the current health implications of living with HIV;

(D) the associated benefits of treatment and support services for people living with HIV; and

(E) the impact of punitive HIV-specific laws, policies, regulations, and judicial precedents and decisions on public health, on people living with or affected by HIV, and on their families and communities.

(c) REVIEW OF FEDERAL AND STATE LAWS.—

(1) REVIEW OF FEDERAL AND STATE LAWS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Attorney General, the Secretary of Health and Human Services, and the Secretary of Defense acting jointly (in this section referred to as the “designated officials”) shall initiate a national review of Federal and State laws, including the Uniform Code of Military Justice (referred to in this section as the “UCMJ”), policies, regulations, and judicial precedents and decisions regarding criminal and related civil commitment cases involving people living with HIV/AIDS.

(B) CONSULTATION.—In carrying out the review under subparagraph (A), the designated officials shall seek to include diverse participation from, and consultation with, each of the following:

(i) Each State.

(ii) State attorneys general (or their representatives).

(iii) State public health officials (or their representatives).

(iv) State judicial and court system officers, including judges, district attorneys, prosecutors, defense attorneys, law enforcement, and correctional officers.

(v) Members of the United States
Armed Forces, including members of other Federal services subject to the UCMJ.

(vi) People living with HIV/AIDS, particularly those who have been subject to HIV-related prosecution or who are from minority communities whose members have been disproportionately subject to HIV-specific arrests and prosecution.

(vii) Legal advocacy and HIV/AIDS service organizations that work with people living with HIV/AIDS.

(viii) Nongovernmental health organizations that work on behalf of people living with HIV/AIDS, including syringe services programs, LGBTQ-focused health organizations, and organizations who serve people who engage in sex work.

(ix) Trade organizations or associations representing persons or entities described in clauses (i) through (vii).

(C) RELATION TO OTHER REVIEWS.—In carrying out the review under subparagraph (A), the designated officials may utilize other existing reviews of criminal and related civil commitment cases involving people living with HIV, including any such review conducted by any Federal or State agency or any public health, legal advocacy, or trade organization or association if the designated officials determines that such reviews were conducted in accordance with the principles set forth in subsection (b).
(2) REPORT.—Not later than 180 days after initiating the review required under paragraph (1), the Attorney General shall transmit to the Congress and make publicly available a report containing the results of the review, which includes the following:

Subtitle G—Lung Disease

SEC. 7301. NATIONAL ASTHMA BURDEN.

Congress finds as follows:

(1) The prevalence of asthma has increased since 1980 and affects more than 26,000,000 people in the United States.

(2) Significant disparities in asthma morbidity and mortality exist for both adults and children particularly for low-income and minority populations, particularly African Americans and Puerto Ricans.

(3) African-American children are twice as likely to have asthma as White children.

(4) In 2016, almost 4,500,000 non-Hispanic African Americans reported having asthma. African Americans with asthma are 3 times as likely to visit the emergency department and twice as likely to get hospitalized as White patients with asthma.

(5) Puerto Ricans are 3.4 times as likely to die from asthma compared with all other Hispanic or Latino groups. Overall Hispanic Americans are 30 percent more likely to be hospitalized for asthma than non-Hispanic Whites.

(6) The majority of adults with asthma are women.

(2) the campaign uses targeted, culturally appropriate messages and messengers to reach underserved communities.

(e) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section such sums as may be necessary for each of fiscal years 2023 through 2027.

SEC. 7304. CHRONIC OBSTRUCTIVE PULMONARY DISEASE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds as follows:

(1) Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (referred to in this subsection as “COPD”) refers to chronic bronchitis and emphysema, incurable dis-ases that make it difficult to exhale all the air from one’s lungs, and that can cause persistent coughing, shortness of breath, and sputum.
(2) COPD exacerbations—episodes of acute difficulty breathing and moderate to severe fatigue—are dangerous, and their treatment often requires hospitalization.

(3) While smoking is the primary risk factor for COPD, other risk factors include air pollution, occupational exposures, heredity, a history of childhood respiratory infections, and socioeconomic status.

(4) It is estimated that over 16,000,000 adults in the United States have COPD.

(5) COPD is a leading cause of death in the United States, claiming over 156,000 lives in 2019.

(6) Since 2000, deaths for women with COPD have exceeded deaths in men.

(7) Although African Americans have a lower prevalence of COPD in the United States, researchers have shown that African Americans may be underdiagnosed. Furthermore, research has shown that African Americans develop COPD with less cumulative smoke exposure and at a younger age.

(b) IN GENERAL.—The Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention shall conduct, support, and expand public health strategies, prevention, diagnosis, surveillance, and public and professional awareness activities regarding chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.
(c) Chronic Disease Prevention Programs.—

The Director of the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute shall carry out the following:

1. Conduct public education and awareness activities with patient and professional organizations to stimulate earlier diagnosis and improve patient outcomes from treatment of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. To the extent known and relevant, such public education and awareness activities shall reflect differences in chronic obstructive pulmonary disease by cause (tobacco, environmental, occupational, biological, and genetic) and include a focus on outreach to undiagnosed and, as appropriate, minority populations.

2. Supplement and expand upon the activities of the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute by making grants to nonprofit organizations, State and local jurisdictions, and Indian Tribes for the purpose of reducing the burden of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, especially in disproportionately impacted communities, through public health interventions and related activities.

3. Coordinate with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Indian Health Service, the Health Resources and Services Administration, and the Department of Veterans Affairs to develop pilot programs to demonstrate best practices for the diagnosis and management of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

(4) Develop improved techniques and identify best practices, in coordination with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, for assisting chronic obstructive pulmonary disease patients to successfully stop smoking, including identification of subpopulations with different needs. Initiatives under this paragraph may include research to determine whether successful smoking cessation strategies are different for chronic obstructive pulmonary disease patients compared to such strategies for patients with other chronic diseases.

(d) ENVIRONMENTAL AND OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH PROGRAMS.—The Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention shall—

(1) support research into the environmental and occupational causes and biological mechanisms that contribute to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease;
and

(2) develop and disseminate public health interventions that will lessen the impact of environmental and occupational causes of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

(e) DATA COLLECTION.—Not later than 180 days after the date of enactment of this Act, the Director of the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute and the Director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, acting jointly, shall assess the depth and quality of information on chronic obstructive pulmonary disease that is collected in surveys and population studies conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, including whether there are additional opportunities for information to be collected in the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey, the National Health Interview Survey, and the Behavioral Risk Factors Surveillance System surveys.

(f) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—There are authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section such sums as may be necessary for each of fiscal years 2023 through 2027.

Subtitle H—Tuberculosis

SEC. 7351. ELIMINATION OF ALL FORMS OF TUBERCULOSIS.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This subtitle may be cited as the “End Tuberculosis Act”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:
(1) In the United States, 7,174 people were diagnosed with tuberculosis (referred to in this section as “TB”) in 2020.

(2) Disparities in TB exist and significantly impact minority communities in the United States. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (referred to in this section as “CDC”) finds that 89 percent of people diagnosed with TB disease in 2020 self-identified as racial and ethnic minorities.

(3) African Americans comprised 19.6 percent of people diagnosed with TB disease during 2020. The population-adjusted rate of TB among African Americans is 1.5 times higher than the national total, and 8.0 times higher than among Whites.

(4) Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and other Pacific Islanders comprised 37.4 percent of people diagnosed with TB disease during 2020. The population-adjusted rate of TB among Asian Americans is 6 times higher than the national total, and 33.25 times higher than among Whites. The population-adjusted rate of TB among Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders is 8.5 times higher than the national total, and 46.75 times higher than among Whites.
(5) Hispanics and Latinos comprised 29.7 percent of people diagnosed with TB disease during 2020. The population-adjusted rate of TB among Hispanics and Latinos is 1.6 times higher than the national total, and 8.75 times higher than among Whites.

(6) TB is both preventable and curable, but the current rate of decline of TB in the United States remains too slow to achieve TB elimination in this century.

(7) TB is transmitted through the air when a person who has TB disease in their lungs coughs or sneezes. People who are in close proximity to the person with TB can breathe in the TB bacteria, and the bacteria will initially settle in their lungs. Living conditions related to poverty, such as crowded housing and poor ventilation, can greatly increase the risk of transmission. Without proper and timely diagnosis and access to treatment, the TB bacteria may grow and spread to other parts of their body.

(8) As many as 13,000,000 people in the United States may have latent TB infection (referred to in this section as “LTBI”). People with LTBI have TB bacteria in their bodies, but their immune system is containing the bacteria, and they are not sick, nor do they have any current risk of spreading TB to others. LTBI can activate into infectious, life-threatening TB if not treated. Modeling has shown that eliminating TB is not possible without addressing LTBI.

(9) Comorbidities associated with TB include cancer, diabetes mellitus, and HIV. People with these medical conditions and compromised immune systems are more likely to develop active TB disease and to have worse outcomes from TB. Many of the communities placed at highest risk of other adverse health outcomes and injustices are also disproportionately impacted by TB, and these include people experiencing homelessness and housing instability, people in congregate living and carceral settings, and people born outside of the United States.

(10) Forms of active TB that do not show drug resistance are classified as drug-susceptible TB (referred to in this section as “DS–TB”). Drug-resistant TB (referred to in this section as “DR–TB”) is a rising threat to the public health of the United States. DR–TB that exhibits resistance to two or more first-line drugs is referred to as multi-drug resistant TB (referred to in this section as “MDR–TB”). MDR–TB that also is resistant to at least one fluoroquinolone, and at least one additional group A second-line medicine is classified as extensively drug-resistant TB (referred to in this section as “XDR–TB”).

(11) Approximately 56 people in the United States were diagnosed with MDR–TB in 2020. One person was diagnosed with XDR–TB in the same year.

(12) In the United States, $503,000,000 was spent in 2020 to treat TB; direct treatment costs average $20,211 to treat a patient with DS–TB, $182,186 to treat a patient with MDR–TB, and $567,708 to treat a patient with XDR–TB. When factoring in productivity losses during treatment, DS–TB averages $24,661, MDR–TB averages $347,324, and XDR–TB averages $729,039. Treatment is often difficult, with daily complex multi-pill regimens, with side-effects ranging from hearing and vision loss to mental health issues.

(13) Recognizing the public health, economic, and societal costs to the threat of MDR–TB, the National Action Plan to Combat MDR–TB was de-developed by the White House to provide the United States with a comprehensive three-pronged strategy to address MDR–TB by strengthening domestic ca-1433

1 capacity to combat MDR–TB; improve international 2 capacity and cooperation to combat MDR–TB; and 3 accelerate basic and applied research and develop-
4 ment for new therapies, diagnostics, and prevention 5 strategies to combat MDR–TB.

(14) Additional Federal support is necessary to 6 expand TB control efforts in case finding and treat-
7 ment to address LTBI in a national prevention ini-8 tiative. Key policy and research breakthroughs in-9 crease the success of a TB prevention initiative: the 10 U.S. Preventative Services Task Force recomenda-11 tion’s “B” rating, screening for LTBI among high-12 risk adults as a covered service increases the likely-13 hood that impacted racial and ethnic minority 14 groups can get tested for TB; a new, shorter course
15 treatment regimen reduces the length of treatment
16 for LTBI from every day for 6 to 9 months to one 17 dose per week for 12 weeks, increasing the likelihood 18 of treatment completion; and the use of blood-based 19 diagnostic tests, Interferon-gamma release assays or 20 IGRAs, increases the ability to detect LTBI among 21 patients in affected communities.

(15) The right to health, and the right to 22 science as a necessary human right to help achieve 23 the right to health, is enshrined in Articles 25 and 27 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. These fundamental human rights cannot be achieved when anyone lacks access to TB prevention or treatment, and when the benefits of scientific innovation are not extended to people with all forms of TB.

SEC. 7352. ADDITIONAL FUNDING FOR STATES IN COMBATING AND ELIMINATING TUBERCULOSIS.

Section 317E(h) of the Public Health Act (42 U.S.C. 247b–6(h)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(3) ADDITIONAL FUNDING FOR STATES IN COMBATING AND ELIMINATING TUBERCULOSIS.—In addition to amounts otherwise authorized to be appropriated to carry out this section, there are authorized to be appropriated such sums as may be necessary to carry out this section for each of fiscal years 2023 through 2024.”.

SEC. 7353. STRENGTHENING CLINICAL RESEARCH FUNDING FOR TUBERCULOSIS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Health and Human Services shall expand and intensify support for current and prospective research activities of the National Institutes of Health, the Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Division of Tuberculosis Elimination to develop new therapeutics, diagnostics, vaccines, and other prevention modalities in addressing all forms of tuberculosis (referred to in this section as “TB”).

(b) INCLUDED RESEARCH ACTIVITIES.—Research activities under subsection (a) shall include—

(1) research and development, and pathways to approval, for novel, safe drugs and drug regimens for the treatment of TB, including in adolescent and pediatric populations and in pregnant and lactating people;

(2) research to develop rapid diagnostic tests for all forms of TB, including diagnostics that can be used for pediatric populations and people living with HIV, diagnostics that can detect extra pulmonary TB and drug resistance, and diagnostics that can be used at the point of care;

(3) research to advance basic knowledge of the pathogenesis of TB and its major comorbidities, including HIV and diabetes mellitus;

(4) research to improve knowledge and understandings of the role of latency in TB and the factors that increase the risk of latent TB infection progressing to active, symptomatic TB disease;

(5) awarding grants and contracts to specifically develop new and needed vaccines to address TB;
(6) awarding grants and contracts to support the training and development of clinical researchers whose research improves the landscape of tools to combat TB; and

(7) awarding grants and contracts to support capacity-building and develop clinical trial site infrastructure in the United States and in TB endemic countries to support the aforementioned research activities.

Subtitle I—Osteoarthritis and Musculoskeletal Diseases

SEC. 7401. FINDINGS.

Congress finds as follows:

(1) Eighty percent of African-American women and nearly 74 percent of Hispanic men are either overweight or obese, speeding the onset and progression of knee arthritis.

(2) Arthritis affects 58,500,000 people in the United States, and that number will rise to 78,000,000 by the year 2040.

(3) 32,500,000 people in the United States suffer from osteoarthritis, the most common form of arthritis, making it the leading cause of disability in the United States. Osteoarthritis is sometimes referred to as degenerative joint disease.
(4) Obesity accelerates the onset of arthritis: 70 percent of obese adults with mild osteoarthritis of the knee at age 60 will develop advanced end-stage disease by age 80. In contrast, just 43 percent of non-obese adults will have end-stage disease over the same time period.

(5) Arthritis affects 1 in 4 people in the United States and is the single greatest cause of chronic pain and disability in the United States.

(6) Women, Black Americans, and Hispanics have more severe arthritis and functional limitations. These same individuals are more likely to be obese and diabetic, and have a higher incidence of heart diseases.

(7) Arthritis costs $304,000,000,000 a year, including $140,000,000,000 in direct costs (medical) and $164,000,000,000 in indirect costs (lost earnings).

(8) Obesity and other chronic health conditions exacerbate the debilitating impact of arthritis, leading to inactivity, loss of independence, and a perpetual cycle of comorbid chronic conditions.

(9) Sixty-one percent of arthritis sufferers are women, and women represent 64 percent of an estimated 43,000,000 annual visits to physicians’ offices.
and outpatient clinics where arthritis was the primary diagnosis. Women also represented 60 percent of approximately 1,000,000 hospitalizations that occurred in 2003 for which arthritis was the primary diagnosis.

(10) Women ages 65 and older have up to $2\frac{1}{2}$ times more disabilities than men of the same age. Higher rates of obesity and arthritis among this group explained up to 48 percent of the gender gap in disability, above all other common chronic health conditions.

(11) The primary indication for total knee arthroplasty (referred to in this section as “TKA”), also known as knee replacement, is relief of significant, disabling pain caused by severe arthritis.

(12) Knee replacement is surgery for people with severe knee damage. Knee replacement can relieve pain and allow an individual to be more active. The process for a total knee replacement involves the surgeon removing damaged cartilage and bone from the surface of the knee joint and replacing the cartilage and bone with a man-made surface of metal and plastic. In a partial knee replacement, the surgeon only replaces part of the knee joint.
(13) Total hip replacement, also called total hip arthroplasty (referred to in this section as “THA”), is used if hip pain interferes with daily activities and more conservative treatments have not helped. Arthritis damage is the most common reason to need hip replacement.

(14) The odds of a family practice physician recommending TKA to a male patient with moderate arthritis are twice that of a female patient, while the odds of an orthopedic surgeon recommending TKA to a male patient with moderate arthritis are 22 times that of a female patient.

(15) Black Americans with doctor-diagnosed arthritis have a higher prevalence of severe pain attributable to arthritis, compared with White Americans (34.0 percent versus 22.6 percent). Black Americans, compared to White Americans, report a higher proportion of work limitations (39.5 percent versus 28.0 percent) and a higher prevalence of arthritis-attributable work limitation (6.6 percent versus 4.6 percent).

(16) Hispanics are 50 percent more likely than non-Hispanic Whites to report needing assistance with at least one instrumental activity of daily living and to have difficulty walking.
(17) Black Americans and Hispanics were 1.3 times more likely to have activity limitation, 1.6 times more likely to have work limitations, and 1.9 times more likely to have severe joint pain than Whites.

(18) In 2003, the National Academy of Medicine reported that the rates of TKA and THA among Black American and Hispanic patients are significantly lower than for Whites—even for those with equitable health care coverage such as through Medicare or the Department of Veterans Affairs.

(19) According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, in 2000, Black American Medicare enrollees were 37 percent less likely than White Medicare enrollees to undergo total knee replacements. In 2006, the disparity increased to 39 percent.

(20) Even after adjusting for insurance and health access, Hispanics and Black Americans are almost 50 percent less likely to undergo total knee replacement than Whites.

Subtitle J—Sleep and Circadian Rhythm Disorders

SEC. 7451. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This subtitle may be cited as the “Sleep and Circadian Rhythm Disorders Health Disparities Act”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Decrements in sleep health such as sleep apnea, insufficient sleep time, and insomnia, affect 50,000,000 to 70,000,000 adults in the United States. An estimated 25,000,000 adults in the United States have sleep apnea, a chronic disorder characterized by one or more pauses in breathing which can last from a few seconds to minutes. They may occur 30 times or more an hour, disrupting sleep and resulting in excessive daytime sleepiness and loss in productivity.

(2) Seventy percent of high school students are not getting enough sleep on school nights, while 35 percent of people in the United States get fewer than 7 hours of sleep per night, and roughly 1,550 fatal motor vehicle crashes per year are caused by drowsy drivers.

(3) Insufficient sleep and insomnia are more prevalent in women. Women who are pregnant and... have sleep apnea are at an increased risk of cardiovascular complications during pregnancy. The impact of disparities in sleep health is associated with a growing number of health problems, including the following:

(A) Hypertension.
(B) Cancer.
(C) Stroke.
(D) Cardiac arrhythmia.
(E) Chronic heart failure and heart disease.
(F) Diabetes.
(G) Cognitive functioning and behavior.
(H) Depression and bipolar disorder.
(I) Substance abuse.

(4) A sleep disparity exists in that poor sleep quality is strongly associated with poverty, race, and social determinants of health. Factors such as employment, education, and health status, amongst others, significantly mediated this effect only in poor subjects, suggesting a differential vulnerability to these factors in poor relative to nonpoor individuals in the context of sleep quality.

(5) Black Americans sleep worse than White Americans. Black Americans take longer to fall asleep, report poorer sleep quality, have more light and less deep sleep, and nap more often and longer.

(6) Black Americans and individuals in lower socioeconomic status groups may be at an increased risk for sleep disturbances and associated health consequences.

(7) Among young Black Americans, the likelihood of having sleep disordered breathing and exhibiting risk factors for poor sleep is twice that in young White Americans. Frequent snoring is more common among Black American and Hispanic women and Hispanic men compared to non-Hispanic White Americans, independent of other factors including obesity.

(8) Black Americans with sleep-disordered breathing develop symptoms at a younger age than Caucasians but appear less likely to be diagnosed and treated in a timely manner. This delay may at least in part be due to reduced access to care.

(9) Sleep loss contributes to increased risk for chronic conditions such as obesity, diabetes, and hypertension, all of which have increased prevalence in underserved, underrepresented minorities. Racial and ethnic disparities related to obesity may also contribute to disparities in health outcomes related to sleep-disordered breathing.

(10) Underrepresented minorities in the United States report an insomnia rate of 12.9 percent compared to only 6.6 percent for White Americans.

(11) Black women have a higher incidence of insomnia than Black men, perhaps related in part to higher risk for chronic persisting symptoms.

SEC. 7452. SLEEP AND CIRCADIAN RHYTHM DISORDERS RE-SEARCH ACTIVITIES OF THE NATIONAL IN-STITUTES OF HEALTH.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The Director of the National In-parities.

(b) REQUIRED RESEARCH ACTIVITIES.—In conducting or supporting research relating to sleep and circua-dian rhythm, the Director of the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute shall—
(1) advance epidemiology and clinical research to achieve a more complete understanding of disparities in domains of sleep health and across population health disparities exist, including—

(A) prevalence and severity of sleep apnea;
(B) habitual sleep duration;
(C) sleep timing and regularity; and
(D) insomnia;

(2) develop study designs and analytical approaches to explain and predict multilevel and life-course determinants of sleep health and to elucidate the sleep-related causes of cardiovascular and metabolic health disparities across the age spectrum, including such determinants and causes that are—

(A) environmental;
(B) biological or genetic;
(C) psychosocial;
(D) societal;
(E) political; or
(F) economic;

(3) determine the contribution of sleep impairments such as sleep apnea, insufficient sleep du-tion, irregular sleep schedules, and insomnia to unexplained disparities in cardiovascular and metabolic risk and disease outcomes;

(4) develop study designs, data sampling and collection tools, and analytical approaches to optimize understanding of mediating and moderating factors, and feedback mechanisms coupling sleep to cardiovascular and metabolic health disparities;

(5) advance research to understand cultural and linguistic barriers (on the person, provider, or system level) to access to care, medical diagnosis, and treatment of sleep disorders in diverse population groups;

(6) develop and test multilevel interventions (including sleep health education in diverse communities) to reduce disparities in sleep health that will impact the ability to improve disparities in cardiovascular and metabolic risk or disease;

(7) create opportunities to integrate sleep and health disparity science by strategically utilizing resources (involving existing or anticipated cohorts) and exchanging scientific data and ideas (including through cross-over into scientific meetings); and

(8) enhance the diversity and foster career development of young investigators involved in sleep and health disparities science.

(A) Native Americans and Alaska Natives;
(B) Asian Americans;
(C) African Americans and Blacks;
(D) Hispanic and Latino-Americans; and
(E) Native Hawaiians and Pacific Islanders;

Subtitle K—Kidney Disease Research, Surveillance, Prevention, and Treatment

SEC. 7501. KIDNEY DISEASE, RESEARCH, SURVEILLANCE, PREVENTION, AND TREATMENT.

(a) SHORT TITLE.—This subtitle may be cited as the “Kidney Disease Research, Surveillance, Prevention and Treatment Improvement Act of 2022”.

(b) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Kidney diseases impact 37,000,000 individuals in the United States.
Black Americans comprise just 13 percent of the United States population, but 33 percent of the United States dialysis patient population. Compared to White Americans, kidney failure prevalence is about 3.7 times greater in Black Americans, 1.4 times greater in Native Americans, and 1.5 times greater in Asian Americans.

Peritoneal dialysis and home hemodialysis use is 40–50 percent lower among Black Americans and Hispanics.

Every racial and ethnic minority group in the United States is significantly less likely to be treated with home dialysis than Whites, and demographic and clinical characteristics are insufficient to explain this differential use.

Black Americans on dialysis, irrespective of dialysis modality, and Hispanics undergoing PD or in-center HD, are significantly less likely than their White counterparts to receive a kidney transplant.

Black Americans, Hispanics, and Asian Americans are less likely to receive living donor kidney transplants than Whites. Efforts to reduce disparities in live donor kidney transplantation for Black American, Hispanic, and Asian patients with kidney failure have been largely unsuccessful.
(7) Medicare and Medicaid patients are less likely to receive a preemptive transplant from a deceased donor compared to private insurance patients (5 percent and 11 percent versus 24 percent), and Black and Hispanic patients are less likely to receive a preemptive transplant from a deceased donor compared with White patients even after changes to the kidney allocation system (5 percent of Black patients and 5 percent of Hispanic patients compared with 18 percent of White patients).

(8) Low-income populations are significantly more likely to progress to kidney failure.

(9) Low socioeconomic status is associated with increased incidence of chronic kidney disease, progression to kidney failure, inadequate dialysis treatment, and reduced access to kidney transplantation.

(10) The 3 goals of Executive Order 13879 of July 10, 2019 (84 Fed. Reg. 33817; relating to Advancing American Kidney Health), recognize the need for more transplants, better prevention and education, and improved access to treatment modalities.

SEC. 7502. KIDNEY DISEASE RESEARCH IN MINORITY POPULATIONS.

(a) In general.—
(1) Research and training centers.—Section 431(c)(3) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 285c–5(c)(3)) is amended—

(A) in subparagraph (B), by striking “and” at the end;

(B) in subparagraph (C), by striking “and” at the end; and

(C) by adding at the end the following:

“(D) improving data science through improvement in bioinformatics, data integration, and data sharing;

(D) completing clinical trials that test interventions to improve patient quality of life and address patient-reported outcomes; and

(E) encouraging inclusion of persons with chronic kidney disease in clinical trials of treatments for nonkidney diseases.

(b) REPORT; COMPREHENSIVE PLAN.—Section 429 of the Public Health Services Act (42 U.S.C. 285c–3) is amended by adding at the end the following:

“(i) identification of effective strategies to increase implementation of proven therapies to slow chronic kidney disease incidence and progression, especially in high-risk underrepresented populations; and “(ii) identification of effective practice improvement strategies in large and small health systems to reduce chronic kidney disease incidence and progression.”.

SEC. 9004. UNITED STATES COMMISSION ON CIVIL RIGHTS.

(a) Coordination Within Department of Justice of Activities Regarding Health Disparities.—Section 3(a) of the Civil Rights Commission Act of 1983 (42 U.S.C. 1975a(a)) is amended—

(1) in paragraph (1), by striking “and” at the end;

(2) in paragraph (2), by striking the period at the end and inserting “; and”; and

(3) by adding at the end the following:

“(3) shall, with respect to activities carried out in health care and correctional facilities, toward the goal of eliminating health disparities between the general population and members of minority groups based on race or color, promote coordination of such activities of—

“(A) the Office of Justice Programs of the Department of Justice, including the Office for Civil Rights within that Office;

“(B) the Office for Civil Rights within the Department of Health and Human Services; and serting the following: “For the purpose of carrying out this Act, there are authorized to be appropriated $30,000,000 for fiscal year 2023, and such sums as may be necessary for each of the fiscal years 2024 through 2028.”

SEC. 9005. SENSE OF CONGRESS CONCERNING FULL FUNDING OF ACTIVITIES TO ELIMINATE RACIAL AND ETHNIC HEALTH DISPARITIES.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) The health status of the population of the United States is declining, and the United States currently ranks below most industrialized nations in health status measured by longevity, sickness, and mortality.

(2) Racial and ethnic minority populations tend to have the poorest health status and face substantial cultural, social, political, and economic barriers to obtaining high-quality health care.

(3) Racial and ethnic minority populations experience and suffer from the extreme and egregious health disparities and inequities that are caused by racism, discrimination, and implicit racial and ethnic bias in and throughout the health care system.

(4) Communities of color with intersecting identities and backgrounds, including children, older adults, women, people with disabilities, people with limited English proficiency, immigrants, lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and questioning populations, and people with lower incomes experience significant personal and structural barriers to obtaining affordable, high-quality health care.

(5) Efforts to reduce and eliminate racial and ethnic health disparities and inequities, and improve minority health, have been limited by inadequate resources (such as funding, staffing, and stewardship), a lack of prioritization, and a lack of accountability from the Federal Government, particularly due to stagnant or declining appropriations that are not in line with the dire need faced by communities that are impacted.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) health disparities negatively impact outcomes for health and human security of the Nation;

(2) reducing racial, ethnic, age, sexual, and gender disparities in prevention and treatment are unique civil and human rights challenges and, as such, Federal agencies and health care entities and systems receiving Federal funds should be accountable for their role in causing disparities and inequity;

(3) funding for the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities, the Office of Civil Rights in the Department of Health and Human Services, the National Institute of Nursing Research, and the Office of Minority Health should be doubled by fiscal year 2023, to effectively address racial and ethnic disparities elimination in health and health care as a matter of health and national security;

(4) adequate funding by fiscal year 2023, and subsequent funding increases, should be provided for health and human service professions training programs, the Racial and Ethnic Approaches to Community Health Initiative at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Minority HIV/AIDS Initiative, the Excellence Centers to Eliminate Ethnic/Racial Disparities Program at the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the National Health Service Corps Scholarship Program initiatives, programs, policies, projects, and activities that are the backbone of the Nation’s agenda to eliminate racial and ethnic health disparities and inequities;
(5) adequate funding for fiscal year 2023 and increased funding for future years should be provided for the Racial and Ethnic Approaches to Community Health Initiative’s United States Risk Factor Survey to ensure adequate data collection to track health disparities, and there should be appropriate avenues provided to disseminate findings to the general public;

(6) current and newly created health disparity elimination incentives, programs, agencies, and departments under this Act (and the amendments made by this Act) should receive adequate staffing and funding by fiscal year 2023; and

(7) stewardship and accountability should be provided to the Congress and the President for measurable and sustainable progress toward health disparity elimination under programs under this Act, including increased data collection and reporting, capacity building for impacted communities, technical assistance, training programs, and avenues to disseminate program details and successes to the public and to policymakers.

(B) INVESTIGATIONS.—

(ii) ACCOUNTING FOR SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH.—In investigating the complaint and reaching a determination on the validity of the complaint, the Director shall account for social determinants of health and the effect of such social determinants on health care outcomes.
(iii) INABILITY TO COMPLETE INVESTIGATION.—If the Director is unable to complete (or finds it is impracticable to complete) the investigation within 180 days after the filing of the complaint (or, if the Secretary takes further action under paragraph (6)(B) with respect to a complaint, within 180 days after the commencement of such further action), the Director shall notify the complainant and respondent in writing of the reasons involved.

(6) PROMPT JUDICIAL ACTION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the Director determines at any time following the filing of a complaint under this subsection that prompt judicial action is necessary to carry out the purposes of this subsection, the Director may recommend that the Attorney General promptly commence a civil action under subsection (d).
(B) Immediate suit.—If the Director determines at any time following the filing of a complaint under this subsection that the public interest would be served by allowing the complainant to bring a civil action under subsection (c) in a State or Federal court immediately, the Director shall certify that the administrative process has concluded and that the complainant may file such a suit immediately.

(7) Annual report.—Not later than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, and annually thereafter, the Director shall make publicly available a report detailing the activities of the Office for Civil Rights and Health Equity under this subsection, including—

(I) not sooner than the earliest of—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In a civil action under paragraph (1), if the court finds that a violation of subsection (a) or breach of a conciliation agreement has occurred, the court may award to the plaintiff actual and punitive damages, and may grant as relief, as the court determines to be appropriate, any permanent or temporary injunction, temporary restraining order, or other order (including an order enjoining the defendant from engaging in a practice violating subsection (a) or ordering such affirmative action as may be appropriate).

(2) Agency.—The term “Agency” means the Environmental Protection Agency.

(3) Built Environment.—The term “built environment” means the components of the environment, and the location of those components in a geographically defined space, that are created or modified by individuals to form the physical and social characteristics of a community or enhance quality of human life, including—

(A) homes, schools, and places of work and worship;
(B) parks, recreation areas, and greenways;
(C) transportation systems;
(D) business, industry, and agriculture;
and
(E) land-use plans, projects, and policies that impact the physical or social characteristics of a community, including access to services and amenities.

(4) DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH.—The term “determinants of health”—

(A) means the range of nonclinical factors inclusive of personal, social, economic, and environmental factors that directly influence health status; and

(B) includes social determinants of health.

(5) ECONOMIC DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH.—The term “economic determinants of health” means income and social status.

(6) ENVIRONMENTAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH.—The term “environmental determinants of health” means the broad physical (including man-made and natural), psychological, social, spiritual, cultural, and aesthetic environment.
(7) PERSONAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH.—
The term “personal determinants of health” means an individual’s behavior, biology, and genetics.

(8) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means the Secretary of Health and Human Services.

(9) SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH.—The term “social determinants of health”—

(A) means a subset of determinants of the health of individuals and environments (such as communities, neighborhoods, and societies) that describe an individual’s or group of people’s social identity, describe the social and economic resources to which such individual or group has access, and describe the conditions in which an individual or group of people works, lives, and plays; and

(B) are sometimes referred to as “social and economic determinants of health”, “socio-economic determinants of health”, “environmental determinants of health”, “social drivers of inequality”, or “personal determinants of health”.

SEC. 10002. FINDINGS.

Congress finds as follows:
(1) Social determinants of health are the greatest predictors of health outcomes.

(2) Social determinants of health, including health-related behaviors, social and economic factors, and physical environment factors account for 80 percent of health outcomes, whereas clinical care accounts for 20 percent of improved health outcomes. Yet, in 2017, public health spending represented only 2.5 percent of all health spending in the United States.

(3) There are more opportunities to improve health for everyone when we understand that health starts, not in a medical setting, but in our families, in our schools and workplaces, in our neighborhoods, in the air we breathe, and in the water we drink.

(4)(A) Healthy People 2030 identifies health and health care quality as a function of not only access to health care, but also the social determinants of health, categorized into the following: neighborhoods and the built environment; social and community context; education; and economic stability.

(B) The following examples illustrate the nexus between the unequal distribution of the social determinants of health and health inequities:
(i) The built environment influences residents’ level of physical activity. Neighborhoods with high levels of poverty are significantly less likely to have places where children can be physically active, such as parks, green spaces, and bike paths and lanes. Neighborhoods and communities can provide opportunities for physical activity and support active lifestyles through accessible and safe parks and open spaces and through land use policy, zoning, and healthy community design.

(ii) Emotional and physical health and well-being are directly impacted by perceived levels of safety, such as unlit streets at night. Community members have expressed that safety is not only a barrier to accessing programs and services that increase quality of life, but also a barrier to accessing physical activity in their community through the built environment.

(iii) Historical and institutional racism in the United States has shaped the way in which social and economic resources and exposure to health promoting environments are distributed. Income, education, occupation, neighborhood conditions, schools, workplaces, the use of health and social services, and experiences with the criminal justice system are all highly patterned by race, with people of color experiencing more that is health harming. Finding ways to uncouple the link between race and access to resources and healthy environments is a principal means of reducing health inequities. Additionally, the anticipation of racism itself causes higher psychological and cardiovascular stress levels that are linked to poor health outcomes.

Remedying discriminatory practices at the individual and systemic levels will likely reduce health inequities caused by this unequal distribution of stress.

(iv) Poor health among Native Americans has largely been driven by post-colonial oppression and historical trauma. The expropriation of native lands and territories to the American state had severe consequences on Native American health. This resulted in the deprivation of traditional food sources—and nutrients—for Native Americans and also the destruction of traditional economies and community organization. Today, Native Americans have twice the rate of diabetes of non-Hispanic Whites. Recognition of the origins of diabetes as having a social and community context, rather than just individual responsibility and genetic predisposition, will shape better policy to provide food security.

(v) In the context of prisons, overcrowding has led to the deterioration of the physical and mental health of individuals after they leave prison. In particular, the mass incarceration of African-American males as a result of inequities within and treatment in the criminal justice system has contributed to an overburdening of certain infectious diseases within the African-American community. As a social institution, incarceration amplifies existing adverse health conditions by concentrating diseases and harmful health behaviors such as tobacco use, drug use, and violence.

(vi) Educational attainment is the strongest predictor of adult mortality. It is a basic component of socioeconomic status that shapes earning potential, and consequently, access to resources that promote health. People with more education are less likely to report that they are in poor health, and are also less likely to have diabetes and other chronic diseases.

(vii) Individuals with lower levels of educational attainment are much more likely to report to be current smokers. In 2017, smoking prevalence was 36.8 percent among adults with a GED diploma, 23.1 percent with less than a high school diploma, and 18.7 percent with a high school diploma, while dropping significantly to 7.1 percent among adults with an undergraduate college degree and 4.1 percent with a postgraduate college degree.

(viii) Income inequality differences account for a large part of health inequities. For example, children living in poverty experience poorer housing conditions, increased exposure to indoor allergens and toxins (such as pesticides, lead, mercury, radon, air pollution, and carcinogens), increased food insecurity, and more psychological stress. These experiences culminate in worse adult health as compared with children with higher socioeconomic status. Specifically, children living in lower socioeconomic neighborhoods have higher rates of asthma due to higher rates of psychological stress resulting from higher rates of violence. Food insecurity is associated with obesity, and racial and ethnic minorities have higher rates of food insecurity.

(ix) Lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer or questioning, intersex, and asexual or allied (referred to in this section as “LGBTQIA+”) individuals face health inequities linked to societal stigma, discrimination, and denial of their civil and human rights. Discrimination against LGBTQIA+ individuals has been associated with high rates of psychiatric disorders, substance abuse, and suicide. Experiences of violence and victimization are frequent for LGBTQIA+ individuals, and have long-lasting effects on the individual and the community. Personal, family, and social acceptance of sexual orientation and gender identity affects the mental health and personal safety of LGBTQIA+ individuals.

(x) Individuals in older and cheaper housing are at higher risk to be exposed to lead, particularly in housing built prior to 1960. The threat of lead poisoning disproportionately affects vulnerable populations, with children living in poverty (5.6 percent) and Black children
(5.6) experiencing the highest rates. According to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, about 3,600,000 homes nationwide that house young children have lead hazards such as contaminated drinking water, peeling paint, contaminated dust, or toxic soil. The combined cost of medical treatment and special education for lead poisoned children averages about $5,600 per child per year, and lead poisoning costs the United States an estimated $50,000,000,000 annually.

(xi) According to the report Healthy People 2030, people with disabilities, as a group, experience health inequities in routine public health arenas such as health behaviors, clinical preventive services, and chronic conditions. Compared with people without disabilities, people with disabilities are—

(I) less likely to receive recommended preventive health care services, such as routine teeth cleanings and cancer screenings;

(II) at a high risk for poor health outcomes such as obesity, hypertension, falls-related injuries, and mood disorders such as depression; and

(III) more likely to engage in unhealthy behaviors that put their health at risk, such as cigarette smoking and inadequate physical activity.

(5) Laws and regulations that improve opportunities to live in safe neighborhoods with more social cohesion, attain higher education, sustain stable employment, and bridge class differences help foster the health and safety of individuals.

(6) The global public health community has reached consensus through the Rio Political Declaration of Social Determinants of Health adopted by the World Health Organization in October 2011 that “[c]ollaboration in coordinated and intersectoral policy actions has proven to be effective. Health in All Policies, an initiative of the American Public Health Association, together with intersectoral cooperation and action, is one promising approach to enhance accountability in other sectors of health, as well as the promotion of health equity and more inclusive and productive societies.”.
SEC. 10003. HEALTH IMPACT ASSESSMENTS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Health impact assessment is a tool to help planners, health officials, decision makers, and the public make more informed decisions about the potential health effects of proposed plans, policies, programs, and projects in order to maximize health benefits and minimize harms.

(2) Health impact assessments foster community leadership, ownership, and participation in decision-making processes.

communities of color or can partner with a program that has such demonstrated expertise.

(3) Use of Funds.—As a condition on receipt of a grant under this subsection, a grantee shall agree to use the grant to increase racial and ethnic minority access to high-quality trauma support services and mental health care, such as by—

SEC. 10012. ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE MAPPING AND DATA COLLECTION.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

(1) environmental hazards causing adverse health outcomes have disproportionately affected en-environmental justice communities as a result of systemic injustices relating to factors that include race and income;

(2) environmental justice communities have increased vulnerability to the adverse effects of climate change and need significant investment to face current and future environmental hazards;

(3) the Federal Government has lacked a cohesive and consistent strategy to carry out the responsibilities of Federal agencies described in Executive Order 12898 (42 U.S.C. 4321 note; relating to Federal actions to address environmental justice in minority populations and low-income populations);

(4) it is necessary that the Federal Government meaningfully engage environmental justice communities in the process of developing a robust strategy to address environmental justice, including high levels of review, input, and consent;

(5) there is a lack of nationwide high-quality data relating to environmental justice concerns, such as socioeconomic factors, air pollution, water pollution, soil pollution, and public health, and a failure to update the existing data with adequate frequency;

(6) there is no nationally consistent method to identify environmental justice communities based on the cumulative effects of socioeconomic factors, pollution burden, and public health;

(7) a method described in paragraph (6) is needed to correct for racist and unjust practices leading to historical and current environmental injustices through the targeted investment in environmental justice communities of at least 40 percent of the funds provided for a clean energy transition and other related investments, including transportation infrastructure, housing infrastructure, and water quality infrastructure;

(8) funds targeted for environmental justice communities should include set-asides for technical assistance and capacity building for environmental justice communities to access the funds;

(9) particular oversight and care are necessary when investing in environmental justice communities to ensure that existing issues are not exacerbated and new issues are not created, particularly issues relating to pollution burden and the displacement of residents;

(10) several States, academic institutions, and nonprofit organizations have engaged in cumulative impact environmental justice mapping efforts that can serve as references for a Federal mapping effort;
(11) many environmental justice communities, such as communities in “Cancer Alley” in the State of Louisiana, have been clearly affected by extreme environmental hazards such that the communities—

(A) are identifiable before the establishment of the tool under paragraph (2) of subsection (d) and the completion of the data gap audit under paragraph (4) of that subsection; and

(B) should be eligible for programs targeted toward environmental justice communities that have faced extreme environmental hazards before the establishment of that tool and the completion of that audit;

(12) in addition to investment in environmental justice communities, pollution reduction is essential to achieving equitable access to a healthy and clean environment and an equitable energy system; and

(13) specific policy and permitting decisions and investments may rely on different combinations of data sets and indicators relating to environmental justice, and race alone may be considered a criterion when assessing the susceptibility of a community to environmental injustice.

(b) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(4) ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE COMMUNITY.—The term “environmental justice community” means a community with significant representation of communities of color, low-income communities, or Tribal that data repository subnational data in existence before the establishment of the tool described in subsection (d)(2) and the completion of the audits under subsection (d)(4)(A).

(4) Requirement.—The Administrator shall take measures to prevent the data in the data repository described in paragraph (1) from being misused to discriminate against environmental justice communities, such as by providing safeguards against the use of downscaled data that may enable the identification of individuals.

(f) Authorization of Appropriations.—There are authorized to be appropriated to the Administrator to carry out this section, including any necessary administrative costs of the Committee—

(g) EFFECT.—Nothing in any provision of this section relating to the tool described in subsection (d)(2) prohibits a State from developing a map relating to environmental justice or pollution burden that relies on different data, or analyzes data differently, than that tool.

SEC. 10013. ANTI-RACISM IN PUBLIC HEALTH.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds as follows:

(1) For centuries, structural racism, defined by the National Museum of African American History and Culture as an “overarching system of racial bias across institutions and society”, in the United States has negatively affected communities of color, especially Black, Latinx, Asian American, Pacific Islander, and American Indian and Alaska Native people, to expand and reinforce White supremacy.

(2) Structural racism determines the conditions in which people are born, grow, work, live, and age and determine people’s access to quality housing, education, food, transportation, and political power, and other social determinants of health.
(3) Structural racism serves as a major barrier to achieving health equity and eliminating racial and ethnic inequities in health outcomes that exist at alarming rates and are determined by a wider set of forces and systems.

(4) Due to structural racism in the United States, people of color are more likely to suffer from chronic health conditions (such as heart disease, diabetes, asthma, hepatitis, and hypertension) and infectious diseases (such as HIV/AIDS, and COVID–19) compared to their White counterparts.

(5) Due to structural racism in maternal health care in the United States, Black and American Indian and Alaska Native infants are more than twice as likely to die than White infants, Black women are 3 to 4 times more likely to die from pregnancy-related causes than White women, and American Indian and Alaska Native women are 5 times more likely to die from pregnancy-related causes than White women. This trend persists even when adjusting for income and education.

(6) Due to structural racism in the United States, Non-Hispanic Black women have the highest rates for 22 of 25 severe morbidity indicators used by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention.
(7) Due to structural racism in the United States, people of color comprise a disproportionate percentage of persons with disabilities in the United States.

(8) Due to structural racism in the United States, Black men are up to $3\frac{1}{2}$ times as likely to be killed by police as White men, and 1 in every 1,000 Black men will die as a result of police violence. Policing has adverse effects on mental health in Black communities.

(9) Due to the confluence of structural racism and factors such as gender, class, and sexual orientation or gender identity, commonly referred to as intersectionality, Black and Latinx transgender women are more likely to die due to violence and homicide than their White counterparts.

(10) Due to structural racism, inequitable access to quality health care and longterm services and supports also disproportionately burdens communities of color; people of color and immigrants are less likely to be insured and are more likely to live in medically underserved areas.

(11) Due to structural racism, older adults of color are also more likely to be admitted to nursing homes and assisted living facilities and to reside in those of poor quality, and when older adults of color do receive home and community based services, Medcicaid spends less money on their services and they are more likely to be hospitalized than older White adults.

(12) In addition, the Federal Government’s failure to honor the unique political status of American Indian and Alaska Native people, to respect the inherent sovereignty of Tribal Nations, and to uphold its trust and treaty obligations to Tribal Nations and American Indian and Alaska Native people, is an ongoing and unjust manifestation of centuries of oppression, with the consequence of adverse health outcomes for Native peoples.

(13) The COVID–19 pandemic has exposed the United States ability to ensure equitable health outcomes for people of color, and made these communities more likely to suffer from severe outcomes due to the coronavirus infection.

(14) Racial and ethnic inequity in public health is a result of systematic, personally mediated, and internalized racism and racist public and private policies and practices, and dismantling structural racism is integral to addressing public health.
(b) Public Health Research and Investment in Dismantling Structural Racism.—Part B of title

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds as follows:

(1) Healthy People 2030 defines social determinants of health as conditions in the environments where people are born, live, learn, work, play, worship, and age that affect a wide range of health, functioning, and quality-of-life outcomes and risks.

(2) One of the overarching goals of Healthy People 2030 is to “create social, physical, and economic environments that promote attaining the full potential for health and well-being for all”.

(4) It is estimated that medical care accounts for only 10 to 20 percent of the modifiable contributors to healthy outcomes for a population.

(5) The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services has indicated the importance of the social determinants in its work stating that, “As we seek to foster innovation, rethink rural health, find solutions to the opioid epidemic, and continue to put patients first, we need to take into account social determinants of health and recognize their importance.”.

(6) The Department of Health and Human Services' Public Health 3.0 initiative recognizes the role of public health in working across sectors on social determinants of health, as well as the role of public health as chief health strategist in communities.
Through its Health Impact in 5 Years initiative, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has highlighted nonclinical, community-wide approaches that show positive health impacts, results within 5 years, and cost-effectiveness or cost-savings over the lifetime of the population or earlier.
